It is Traveling Time at K&L

Now that we have finally opened (after 22 months of preparation) our Hollywood store at 1400 North Vine Street (Just south of Sunset Blvd), we can resume our travel to the best vineyard areas in the world. In fact, as you receive this April newsletter, our gang will be in Bordeaux (Trey, Ralph, Alex and I) tasting the 2006 Bordeaux vintage. I predict the wines will be less expensive than the 2005s, not such a bold statement on my part. Keith has just returned from Burgundy, Jim Chanteloup from Australia, Greg and Mike Parres from Italy, Jeff Vierra and Paul from the Loire, and Gary leaves for Bubbly land on April 10. Anne goes to Spain, Mulan to the South of France, Susan to Sctoland and Joe Z to Pescadero! All this so we can find the best wine values in the world for our loyal customers. See you soon. —Clyde Beffa Jr

Brick's Bordeaux Picks: The '90s Weren't All That Bad

With all the poor taste that was thrown around in the decade that brought us Pauly Shore, Vanilla Ice and Hootie and the Blowfish, at least we can drink some amazing wines to blur those horrible memories. Take for example the 1995 Gruaud-Larose, St-Julien ($59.99). This beauty has been polished slowly to a shine. Just coming into its own now, this shows pretty dried red plum fruit, with some warm asphalt notes and spiced hazelnuts. All of a sudden memories of Alanis Morrisette are fading.

From 1997, an underrated and over-priced (at opening) year of wines in Bordeaux, the 1997 du Tertre, Margaux ($32.99) and the 1997 Domaine de Chevalier, Pessac-Leognan ($32.99) are two great choices. Full of minted raspberry coulis, the du Terte is a pleasure to drink now. This wine will melt away all the sorrows of the Backstreet Boys. And if that doesn't work, you have the Chevalier, a rustic, earthy effort that also has some lovely Rainer cherry fruit and touches of roasted beets. This is Bordeaux, pure and simple, just the way I like it.

At the close of the decade comes the 1999 Lalande Borie, St-Julien ($19.99). This generous, dense effort is still quite youthful, but at the same time is completely drinkable. Packed with plump black plum fruit and a touch of pastille candy, it is hard to keep your hands off this one. Sort of like the dreams of every teenage boy of pre-shaved-head Britney.

After all of that reminiscing, we must move on to the 21st century. The 2001 Bastor La Mon-tagne, Sauternes ($31.99), is a full-throttle sticky with plenty of banana-like sweetness and a rich crème brulee note. A must with foie gras, something we will hopefully can remember for decades to come. —Bryan Brick

Bearden's Bordeaux Picks

This month, as we bid farewell to the ripe, fruity 2003 Bordeaux vintage and get ready to greet the stylish, fresh and lively 2004s, we take a breather to taste some beautifully aged stars from vintages past.

1991 Pichon-Lalande, Pauillac ($119.00) One of the stars of the vintage and surprisingly rich, this was a standout at a recent tasting in the SF store. The severe selection employed by the winemaker paid off, resulting in a ripe, round plumy wine with sweet fruit and a long, persistent finish. Seductive aromas of cedar and herbs lead to a soft middle of nicely concentrated fruit that is generous, elegant and drinking beautifully right now.

1998 Léoville-Las-Cases, St-Julien ($94.99) Here is a classic claret displaying power and finesse. The aromas of red and black fruit, pencil lead and smoke are tight and pure in this structured and elegant wine. The long, complex finish still shows considerable tannin, but the exceptional balance and structure lend a sense of overall harmony that make this enjoyable even at such a relatively young age. Decant and enjoy with food or age this classic another decade.

1988 Léoville-Las-Cases, St-Julien ($149.95) This starts with mature and alluring aromas of cedar, dusty cherry and smoky olives. The dense, round mid-palate is rich with plums, cherries and dark currants and displays an exotic touch of baking spice. The very long, gentle finish is lively and lends a surprising freshness to this plump and luscious beauty.

And a new bargain sticky to finish things off!

2003 La Clotte Cazalis, Sauternes ($17.99 375ml) This well-priced gem from a good vintage for Sauternes has been a huge hit. This is very fresh with citrus and tropical aromas and a rich, full body of coconut, spice, pineapple and a hint of honey on the finish. 90 points from Robert Parker and a tremendous value to boot. —Steve Bearden

The Store and the Bar are Open! Come Visit!

Happy Spring and baseball season everyone! April is always an exciting time here at K&L, and this year it's even more exciting with the opening of our Hollywood location. By the time you have this in hand our team will be in Bordeaux to do our yearly evaluation of the new baby, the 2006 vintage. I'm personally very excited about the work this year as there is not a tornado of hype surrounding this vintage (yet), which insures all the cherry pickers (most of the world) will stay home. Of course, our full vintage report will follow.

Also exciting is our newly remodeled tasting bar in Redwood City. Seriously, I was not sure I would live long enough to see this happen. So, just in case I had passed away before this project was completed, I asked a few of the employees to make sure they named the bar after me! Now that it's done it can rightfully be called (unofficially) the office of Jacques Chanty Chanteloup. The new bar is big, bright and very comfortable. People are loving it, and the Bordeaux tastings have been outstanding. Here are a few of the great wines we have tasted recently:

We featured a fantastic comparison between a wine of greatness and a wine that had to deal with terrible weather conditions. The 2003 Ch. Pichon-Lalande ($114.99) shows regal layers of round delicious fruit with hints of cedar and spicy wild herbs. The hallmark qualities of balance and elegance are mirrored by the exact same qualities in the horrific frost vintage of 1991. People were blown away by the similarities of the 1991 Ch. Pichon-Lalande ($119.00), which is ready to drink and a true testament to the great winemaking, selection of fruit and the terroir of the vineyard of Pichon Comtesse de Lalande. And one more thing about PCL: Whatever you do, buy some 2004. I firmly believe this will be the last PCL of this high quality to ever sell anywhere near this price in the future. The wine is classis PCL and classic Pauillac! While you are shopping, also buy 2004 Cos d'Estournel ($79.99), and you will laugh at the price later.

Bravo to James Suckling in the Wine Spectator for highlighting the 50 best for below $50 great value reds. These wines are the real deal quality wise, and you should be all over them if you love Bordeaux, as they will give you great pleasure over the years. We regularly pour many of these. Recently we poured the 2004 Ch. d'Angludet ($23.99), a K&L favorite for decades now that is not your soft and easy style Margaux, but has a deep core of tight fruit that is precisely focused and ages unbelievably well, as the recently tasted 1982 and 1983 can attest. Another wine I'm loving is 2003 Ch. Goulee ($31.99), a new venture form J.G.Prats, the director of Cos and the Domaines Reybier, the owners of Cos. Located north of St-Estèphe, this wine has all the earmarks of greatness. Deep, dark, rich and supple, this wine has a chance to become a graet success, just as long as the price does not get out in front of the success.

I told Stephane Von Neipperg at the UGC tasting how lovely and focused his 2004 Cannon-La Gaffeliere was. I also told him that I don't buy it for my collection any more. I now buy his Cotes de Castillon, the 2003 Ch. d'Aiguilhe ($28.99), pronounced day-gwee. I took me years to say this correctly and to recognize the quality of this super-pure red-fruit-driven beauty.

For those of you who are regular readers of this column, it's time to say goodbye to my usual signoff of 18 years... Go Giants! With a store in Hollywood, that would be very bad karma. So Tousjour Bordeaux to all of you, and feel free to contact me with any questions or advice on the wines of Bordeaux at ex 2723 or Ralph@klwines.com. Cheers! -Ralph Sands

DIRECT BUYS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

K&L buys many imported wines directly from the producers or negociants. We taste the wines at the property and negotiate with the seller, often finding wines that are not available in the U.S. market. And we get the wines to our customers for less. No middlemen!

Finalement Fondreche!

We are finally starting to see some of the much anticipated and truly awesome 2005 Rhones roll in, with a few selections this month from the superstar in the Cotes de Ventoux, Domaine de Fondreche. If you have already tasted Fondreche you know what all the hype is about. If you have not, then I would suggest that you get your hands on several bottles asap and then ask questions later. They are that good.

2005 Côtes du Ventoux Domaine de Fondrèche "O'Sud" ($12.99) This entry-level wine from Fondreche is year in year out one of THE best deals going in the Rhone Valley. The 2005 O'Sud Cotes de Ventoux is bright, fleshy and supple with tons of black cherry, raspberry and hints of roasted herb and sweet meat.

2005 Cotes de Ventoux Domaine de Fondreche "Nadal" ($22.99) This blend of 50% syrah and 50% old-vine grenache offers fullness, balance and tremendous elegance. Barrique aging (one year) for the syrah component adds a richness and hint of vanilla, whereas the grenache is kept in tank only, to maintain the floral attributes of the grape and its freshness. Insiders know this Fondreche cuvee well and it always quickly disappears from our shelves into collectors cellars.

2005 Cotes de Ventoux Domaine de Fondreche "Persia" ($24.99) This intense and powerful number is awash in blackberries, blueberries, plums and minerals. The Persia is a blend of 90% syrah and 10% mouvedre, given a long cuvaison and aged partially in barriques for one year (sur lies, bien sur!). A tremendous mouthful of a wine, this offers tremendous value! Parker gave the 2004 Persia 93 points and had this to say: "This wine is fabulous, with a superb nose of blackberry, blueberry, crushed rocks, white flowers, and licorice. The wine has sweet tannin, huge fruit, a voluptuous attack and mid-palate, and a stunning finish. Drink it over the next 5-7 years." —Mulan Chan

Jim C's View Down Under

2005 Rustenberg Chardonnay Stellenbosch South Africa ($17.99) The fruit for this wine comes from vines on the slopes of Helderberg and Simonsberg mountains. Grapes were hand harvested and whole-bunch pressed. The wine went through 70% malolactic fermentation with lees stirring and then 11 months in 40% new French oak. There is a gorgeous bouquet of peach, pineapple, spiced apple, honey and mineral notes. On the palate the wine is rich with a Burgundian sense of acidity and integration of oak. There is superb balance and a long finish. 90 points from the Wine Spectator!

2006 Drylands Sauvignon Blanc Marlborough New Zealand ($12.99) I remember trying this a few years back at a trade tasting when it first came into the market place, and it was a stand out then. They have continued to produce a fine wine and great value with classic Marlborough character. Silt-rich soil gives the racy and aromatic character, the gravel giving more texture and mineral nuance. The nose is bursting with gooseberry, grapefruit, passion fruit and lime peel. The palate reveals all this fruit with vibrant acidity, minerals, a powdery texture and a long lingering finish. This got 91 points and a Smart Buy from the Wine Spectator.

Roc of Ages

This Domaine Le Roc des Anges was created in 2001 by Marjorie Gallet, hailed by the French wine press as one of France's young wine phenoms. K&L is proud to offer wines from this young and dynamic vigneronne.

2005 Côtes du Roussillon Domaine Le Roc des Anges "Segna de Cor" ($14.99) Made of 50% grenache with 30% carignan and 20% syrah, rich and extracted with sweet blackberries and spicy black pepper. This broad-textured red is full of finesse and beauty. A fantastic value!

2004 Côtes du Roussillon Domaine Le Roc des Anges "Vieilles Vignes" ($19.99) Composed of 40% carignan, 40% grenache and 20% syrah from vines averaging 75 years! The vineyards are worked manually, and no chemicals are used. This wine is rich and deep, exhibiting a phenomenal pulverized rock kind of minerality on the finish. It too retains a cool elegance that seems to be a recurring theme with Gallet's wines!

2004 Côtes du Roussillon Domaine Le Roc des Anges "1903" ($34.99) Extremely limited. Gallet's "1903" refers to the year in which these low-yielding carignan vines were planted. If you are one of those skeptics who doubt carignan can make a great, strapping and yet elegant red, this wine is guaranteed to cause a change of heart! Cassis, blackcurrant and black pepper notes make for a deep, complex yet thoroughly enjoyable red. —Mulan Chan

Her Highness and the Shaman

This month I am presenting an unlikely pair: a lithe wine from a rather obscure AOC in the Savoie and an indulgent, sexy rouge that is, yes (gasp!) a Vin de Table.

2004 Roussette de Savoie Domaine Frederic Giachino "Altesse" ($9.99) Domaine Giachino has been completely organic since 1988. This wine is 100% altesse fermented in tank with no malo-lactic and spends eight months in tank on its fine lees for added complexity. The result is a strikingly aromatic and snappy white. This is a great aperitif wine and also pairs perfectly with cream of asparagus soup.

2003 Vin de Table de France Domaine de Chamans "Hegarty No. 3" ($13.99) Since purchasing the property in 2002, John Hegarty and Philippa Crane have farmed using a non-interventionist philosophy. Hegarty No. 3 blends the carnal and herbal into a heady and seductive brew. Shamanistic indeed, like a magic potion this wine spills out dark tarry fruits, blueberries, garrigue, dusty floral scents, juniper berries and musk. According to Mulan, the wine can only be described as "come hither." Need we say more? —Nadia Dmytriw

CABERNET PICK OF THE MONTH!

2004 Honig, Napa.....$29.99 Ripe red and black fruits with underlying cedar, cocoa and spice. Rich, supple mid-palate, with moderately firm tannins. Long, balanced, flavorful finish with well integrated oak. This Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon perfectly complements lamb, duck, beef and wild game.

Trey's Picks for May!

2005 Miner Family Napa Chardonnay ($27.99) Malolactic-fermentation is kept in moderation, which keeps this Chardonnay brisk and sleek on the palate. Hints of tropical fruit, pears, coconut and a touch of lime help make this wine a pleasure to drink. Rich but not heavy in the mouth, this wine is well suited to a wide range of foods.

2003 Clos du Val Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($24.99) Classic Cabernet! Not overdone in any sense, this wine shows finesse and elegance, helped by bright acidity and freshness, which make it easy to pair with food. Hints of cedar, lead-pencil and earthy undertones add complexity and intrigue.

2003 Rubicon Estate "Cask" Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($62.99) The Cask Cabernet from Rubicon Estate is a tribute to the classic Cabs made by Inglenook Winery. It's 100% grown at the Rutherford estate, and the wine is 100% cabernet sauvignon. The nose shows toasty vanilla and mocha aromas, which are followed with a firm structure, dark berry, coco and cherry flavors that linger on the finish. Best with a few more years in the cellar but enjoyable now.

2004 Four Vines "Anarchy" ($26.99) A blend of 40% syrah, 29% zinfandel and 31% mourvèdre, this wine is not overdone or over-extracted. It has lots of bright, ripe fruit, finesse, crisp acidity and an underlying meaty note from the syrah. This should be your pick for a springtime BBQ wine. Great with ribs!

2004 Roessler "Alder Sprngs".....$31.99

You see it all over Paris, fashionable wine bars with their shelves full of off-dry sparklers, juicy reds, and bright crisp whites—all produced as naturally as possible. The idea is that vignerons for the most part make wine that will appeal to a French public that is drinking less wine. It's ironic that the French thinking these days is to make wines that are easier to drink and drink lots of, since most Americans attribute the French with a certain cultural snobbery. French wine labels are confusing, the wines need to age or maybe they need to be served with food it can all be very confusing. It's easy to miss the real point: Wine is for drinking, no matter where it's from. Since making wine a part of everyday life is so new to many of us in the "new world," it ends up being kind of stressful. The rites and rituals associated with everything from buying a bottle to finishing a glass obscure the basic fact that wine should be enjoyable. We're lucky to have access to a whole world of wine. We have choices, but that wealth of choices can often make choosing a wine more difficult. The current trend in France counters that. By making wines fun again, the whole vin naturel scene attempts to demystify wine and make it fun for everyone. Wines like the 2004 Domaine Beau Thorey Coteaux du Languedoc "Patus" ($11.99) and the 2004 Domaine de la Ferme Saint Martin Beaumes de Venise "Terres Jaunes" ($12.99) fit that new way of thinking. These are organically produced country reds that are fun and easy to drink. Equally at home with a meal or an evening in sipping with friends, they're simple, honest wines that don't need the ritual—just a glass and a thirsty drinker. -Paul Courtright

Chip's Quips

2004 W.H. Smith Piedra Hill "Purple Label" Red ($49.99) Joan and Bill Smith's success with Sonoma Pinot Noir may make people forget that back in the day they founded the La Jota winery and produced some of Howell Mountains deepest and most intense Cabernets. They've returned to their roots, so to speak, and K&L is proud to make the journey with them. The "Purple Label" is a premium barrel selection (think La Jota Anniversary Selection) from their Piedra Hill Vineyard that sits high atop Howell Mountain. Black currants grab your olfactory senses when you stick your nose into a glass. The aromas lead you right into a gorgeous palate of blackberries, anise and smoky white pepper. The finish is long and lush with soft tannins rounding off the edges. This wonderful Howell Mountain Cabernet blend is a testament to Joan and Bill's vineyard management and winemaking abilities. Bravo!

2006 Honig Sauvignon Blanc ($12.99) The name Honig is synonymous with California Sauvignon Blanc, and their track record with this grape variety is a long and remarkable one. Always fresh and lively, the '06 is no exception. Fresh clean flavors of citrus and grapefruit layer out in the aromas and body of this wine. The finish has a classic note of minerality adding to the texture of this zippy little wine.

2004 Honig Cabernet Sauvignon ($29.99) Blackberries, black currants and cherries form a rich tapestry of flavors on the palate of Honig's Napa Valley Cab. The tannins are moderate making it completely accessible now. Drink it on its own or have it with some steak or lamb chops and enjoy a perfect wine and food match.

Boutique Corner

This month I want to share a few of my favorite wines that have just arrived. The Tor Kenward wines have been favorites of mine for the last couple of years. The Toucan Zinfandel is a new wine for me and made several of us smile when we tasted it. Enjoy!

2004 Tor Kenward ROCK Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($69.99) 95% Cimarossa Vineyard and 5% Mast Vineyard. Cimarossa is at 2,100 feet above the valley floor and had close to a foot of snow in early 2006. Mast Vineyard is only a few hundred feet above sea level. Soils, climates, facings, everything about these two vineyards is different but their broader appellation, Napa Valley. Yet together they can sing, and they did in 2004. This Cab is rich and full throttle with layers of berries, black fruit and tobacco all held together with a seamless structure.

2004 Tor Kenward "Mast Vineyard" Oak Knoll Cabernet Sauvignon ($69.99) The bigger and riper of the two wines. Medium ruby. Cool, bright aromas of rocks, minerals and aromatic spearmint. Dense but bright, with a distinct eucalyptus character. Juicy, firmly built and persistent. This seems to rely more on its acidity than on its tannins for structure.

2005 Toucan Wines Estate Zinfandel ($28.99) This wine first got my attention by the flavor imparted by Hungarian oak. Deep garnet/purple, the nose is ripe, bright wild cherry and darker berry fruit, spice and a forward elegance of fruit and oak. This is a big wine that tastes of intense cherry. The wine was placed in a variety of barrels including 70% new French, Hungarian and American oak, and 30% second-year French and American barrels for one year. See you in the City... —Michael Jordan

Unusual Reds From El Mundo Hispano!

2003 Biurko Rioja Graciano ($9.99) 89 points Robert Parker: "A knock-out effort, the 2003 Graciano exhibits a dense ruby/purple color along with sweet, floral, black cherry and currant aromas as well as flavors. Enjoy it over the next 1-2 years."

2005 Poesia Pasodoble, Argentina ($11.99) The dynamic and talented Helene Garcin-Leveque (of CLos L'Eglise, Barde Haut, Haut Bergey and Branon in Bordeaux), is busy making great wine at her place in Argentina, Poesia. She produces awesome wines with style, substance and rich flavors. The Pasodoble is a blend 34% cabernet sauvignon, 33% malbec and 33% syrah. Big and full, this red shows all of the quality of the top-notch 2005 vitnage. Enjoy it with any of your favorite grilled foods!

2003 Escudo Rojo, Chile ($12.99) Baby Almaviva? Well, the Escudo Rojo is a wine from Chile from Baron Philippe de Rothschild. This red shows all the power of the fine 2003 vintage as well as being the first vintage to reap the benefits of their new plantings in the Maipo Valley. Made from a blend of cabernet sauvignon, carmener, syrah and cabernet franc, the Escudo Rojo has plenty of ripe "new world" fruit tempered with "old world" style and elegance. I like this wine with a variety of grilled meats like lamb or beef. If you feel adventurous, try making the traditional Chilean asado al disco.

2005 Descendientes de Jose Palacios, Petalos del Bierzo () 90 points Robert Parker: "The entry level 2005 Petalos del Bierzo sets the bar high. Purple-colored, it has attractive aromas of flowers, raspberries and chocolate. The fruit is ripe, sweet, and supple in the mouth offering excellent intensity as well as elegance. Drink it over the next 4-6 years. This estate was started in 1998 by Alvaro Palacios. It has steep hillside vineyards and 60- to 100-year-old vines planted in 100% Mencia, a varietal indigenous to Bierzo, a cool-climate D.O"

To be Franc...

2005 Vin de Pays d'Oc Domaine de Coussergues (Cabernet Franc) ($9.99) Domaine de Coussergues, an ancient Baronnie founded in 1495 by a land grant from Charles VIII, is owned by the Baron Arnould de Bertier and his family. Arnould represents the thirteenth generation of the Sarret de Coussergues family to run the estate. The proud Baron has 600 hectares of land (1,482 acres), 210 hectares in grapes and the rest in woodland. This domaine is located in the Languedoc, where the soil in this particular area is quite chalky, with flinty red clay that is very much volcanic in nature. This little mouthfull of joy was imported by the very reliable Kysela Pere et fills, LTD. Most impressive about this busty and girthy cabernet franc is its bargain price of $9.99. One could spend an evening focused on this pure expression of vinous goodness, with finely integrated tannins, bright acidity and a deep core of black fruits that mesh with the mineral components swimmingly. This is a happy wine, locked, stocked and loaded to perform with most bistro fare. -Keelyn Healy

Alsace: Familie Becker

Domaine Jean-Philippe et Francois Becker is located in Zellenberg, one of the very few hilltop towns in Alsace, and is run by three very energetic and dynamic siblings. Martine Becker is the sales force, representing the domaine all over the world and doing so in an impressive seven languages. Brother Jean Philippe is the quiet, reflective winemaker whose shy smile and character hide his intense drive for quality at any cost. Finally Jean-Francois, the youngest, handles all the vineyard work and is a very charming and happy fellow. The Beckers can trace their winegrowing history back 13 generations to 1610 and since then have amassed 16 ha of vineyards with more than four of them Grand Cru. They are moving the entire estate over to certified organic viticulture. If you love the wines of Alsace, you will also love Becker.

The Becker Cremant d'Alsace ($14.99) is bright and refreshing, with a fine bead, creamy texture and just a hint of toast. The 2005 Becker Muscat Grand Cru Froehn ($18.99) is a smouldering beauty that jumps in your arms and seduces you with zesty orange and white flowers aromas. The 2005 Becker Riesling Grand Cru Froehn ($18.99) is minerally, properly dry with high-toned aromatics suggesting white flowers, lime blossom and peach. And the 2005 Becker Gewürz-traminer Grand Cru Froehn ($19.99) is spicy and oh so aromatic, yet still firm and bracing on the palate, never cloying, just lovely and fun. —Jeff Vierra

Time To Show Off

I can't stop thinking about springtime: parties, friends, pets, flowers... and ah yes, the BBQ, the true sign of spring. But do you honestly think it would be much fun without the 2005 Pollerhof Grüner Veltliner (1L $9.99) that you generously poor while your guests arrive and nibble? Perfect with those cilantro shrimp skewers that are getting cold because you are late, but don't worry about those perfectly grilled veggies, they are better cold anyway! You and your guests settle in and get all that "it's nice to see you again" stuff out of the way and then, it's go time! Those delicate, sweet little shrimp are melting away while everyone takes a sip of Pollerhof. And soon, the nod of approval. A subtle balance of rich acidity intertwined with white stone fruit and pepper spice, which refreshes and cleans the palate. And you stand there proud, like the genius you are. But, it's not over! This is where the mahi mahi that has been marinating in a ginger sesame soy sauce comes in to play. On the red hot grill it goes, filling the air with a "man that smells good" smoke that the neighbors three doors down can smell. Sure you could serve this on its own no problem. But why not enhance the situation with the 2005 Wagner-Stempel Riesling Trocken (1L $17.99), a sharp mineral-driven Riesling that has no problem standing up to the strong flavors you have created. Just enough bite to cut through the rich texture of the fish and tropical aromatics that just seem to dance along a line of purity. Enjoy! -Eric Story

The Lion In Winter

Faerie tales take many shapes. Man working with (and against) nature is a familiar theme. It is a direct link to survival. Forest, orchard or vineyard, the source of the sustenance matters not. Every harvest is calendrical. It is beginning and end. Despite the advancing technologies of harvesting and genetics, we still till the soil. We reap and we sow out of necessity.

What can be more romantic than tending rows of grapevines in the golden California sun, picking under a once blue sky now littered with packs of watchdog clouds that threaten to pounce at any moment? Making the wine under a tin roof that rings with the fingertaps of a nascent storm? Tasting, the intrusion on slumbering barrels? And finally, capturing the juice in little glass cells? This is the year's bounty-the harvest. This is the faerie tale.

It is and it isn't. Duane Cronin knew that. He began his second career as a winemaker in the 1970s, that sweet patch of the past that has a roothold in the present. Duane came to California as a computer consultant. He left a vigneron.

Don't call Duane Cronin a gentleman farmer or a millionaire who wished to make wine. He made the choice to leave the high-tech world of IBM and planted a couple of acres in his yard in Woodside (the "Estate" vineyard). He hit the books and talked to the growers and the local winemakers. Soil replaced the Silicon Valley. Computers morphed into Cronin Vineyards. Duane learned the craft.

He got his Chardonnay cuttings from Ridge and Cabernet from Caymus, but his first wine was Zinfandel from the D'Agostini vineyard in the gold country. Bonded winery status was secured in the small town of Woodside. The city gave Cronin Vineyards the green light for production of roughly 2000 cases a year.

Duane made wine that reflected his passion, notably Pinot Noir and

Jim's April Gems

Joe and I usually do an April Fool's column together as a spoof on a popular media figure. This year we had planned to do a column on the Stephen Colbert's The Colbert Report's "The Word," but a dear winemaking friend of ours (Duane Cronin) died recently (see Joe's column), and it made doing a spoof absolutely unimportant (maybe a belated one for May). Also, some of the K&L wine staff (one or two of them, who have extremely low standards), feel that it is important that I inform you that I will be out on medical leave for two months. Sooo, for those three or four customers who want to accept my fatally flawed in-store wine advice on a regular basis, I will not be there. I should return by the very end of April (the operation was early March), assuming that Clyde and Todd haven't realized that I have been dozing all this time at my desk for the last twenty years. Sooo, in my place, if you need Jim Barr recommendations, ask for Joe Zugelder. He has been seen, regularly, doing impressions of me in the store (I am still way behind taking jabs at the Joe Z universe)

Chardonnay. His focus on the Burgundian style of understatement and compatibility with food was a unique concept in California at the time.

Cronin wines are as rustic and long lived as they are unique. The Chardonnays from the Santa Cruz Mountains, all lemons and stones and damp hay, are as worthy as they are demanding of bottle age. The Pinot Noirs and Provence-style blends are as arresting as they are interesting. All of the wines received Old World treatment, and demanded Old World patience. These are artisan wines, made with visionary hands: Duane's hands, with a pureness that is rarely found today. Winemaking properties are too big now, more mindful of the bottom line than top quality.

Duane Cronin has a rich history with K&L. My colleague Keith Wollenberg made his pilgrimage to the winery on a regular basis and has vivid memories rather than vintage memorization. My colleague Jim Barr was a friend of Duane's and helped him at the winery. An excerpt from "Wines And Winemakers Of The Santa Cruz Mountains: An Oral History" by Charles Sullivan: "... I went to see my old buddy Jim Barr... And he said he'd buy all that I'd sell him."

Well well. Hate to say it, but Jim Barr was right as rain this time. (Duane would call me once in a while to tell me how much he enjoyed my columns dismantling Jim in this publication).

Duane Cronin passed away at the young age of 61. He expressed a desire for K&L to handle what will be the last offering of Duane Cronin wines. We are proud to offer these unique, living pieces of history. Try a bottle, please. Look for the lion on the label, a favorite symbol of his. Raise a glass to this iconoclastic vigneron and taste something unique: the irony of being introduced to a great play in its last act. For Duane Cronin, this is the last exhibition. Please call or visit ww.klwines.com for complete stocks and pricing. —Joe Zugelder

Real quick, five incredibly great gems for this month are: 2004 Lauraire des Lys Minervois Loriza ($12.99), 2005 Ch. Haut Sociando, Cotes de Blaye ($10.99), 2003 Ch. Manoir du Gravoux, Cotes de Castillon ($10.99), 2004 Maison Champy, Bourgogne Chardonnay "Signiature" ($15.99), 2005 Domaine des Nembrets, Denia Barraud Saint-Veran ($13.99).

I do not want to waste too much space in this column to tell you what wonderful buys these are because of the magnitude of the Cronin wine available in Joe's column. But just accept the fact that all of them will be our house wines for the month of April. The reds will receive eight (*********) and the whites, seven (********), if that is important to you.

If you have any questions about these choices, you can contact us at jimbarr@klwines.com. Enjoy the wines, and we will back in May on a limited basis. —Jim, Anderson, Eby and Vanilla

Back In The Champagne Business!

The beginning of 2007 has been a little rough for me. We have been sold out of everything in out direct import Champagne program! I am pleased that my ship has come in, and we are back in the Champagne business. Please take a moment to look over our list. A lot of old favorites are back in stock. Champagnes from producers like Ariston, Michel Arnould, Bonville, Fleury, Gonet, Launois, Leclerc-Briant and Bruno Michel. I will endeavor to avoid long periods of shortage in the future, but I encourage anyone with favorites to purchase now to avoid disappointment. One Champagne that I am looking forward to buying myself is the 2000 Launois Cuvee Maxime ($34.99). I was only able to acquire an additional 17 cases of this very special Champagne. It was made to celebrate the birth of Maxime Marguet-Launois who was born in 2000. This is Champagne the way the Launois like to drink it, very low in dosage, shimmering with minerality and promising almost limitless longevity. It is made exclusively from estate-grown, grand cru chardonnay and has breed and poise rare at any price.

Please contact me anytime at garywestby@klwines.com or 877-KLWines (877-559-4637) extension 2728. Ask about our new Champagne Club; the first shipment goes out this month! —Gary Westby

Our Ship Has Arrived!

Yes, it is true. Or newest shipment of Champagne has arrived, and our selection of Champagnes has virtually doubled. So, enjoy! It is now my turn to enjoy writing up one of my favorite producers, Franck Bonville. The "entry-level" Champagne from this estate is the NV Bonville Blanc de Blancs (Inquire). Like all of the Franck Bonville Champagnes, this wine is all Grand Cru fruit and 100% chardonnay. In this case the fruit is solely from Avize. It has a nose of fresh apples, wet stones and spicebox aromas. On the palate, green apples, pears, zesty acidity and a subtle creamy mousse. A fantastic buy that also comes in half-bottles and magnums. I brought a magnum to a dinner with "non-Champagne drinkers," and it lasted less than 15 minutes!

A step up from the non-vintage is the 2000 Bonville Millesime Blanc de Blancs (Inquire). Fruit sourcing for the vintage juice is from Avize, Cramant and Oger. A fairly rich style, with a nutty, pear and (slightly) yeasty nose. Rich, round and full bodied in the mouth with pear fruit, toast and almonds. Complex, with a nice bit of acidity on the finish. Will age far better than the 1998, so feel free to cellar this one for 4-6 years.

The top-of-the-line Champagne from Franck Bonville is the venerable Bonville Cuvee Les Belle Voyes (Inquire). I can say, in all honesty (and have said so before), that this Champagne is one of my favorites and well worth twice the price. All of the fruit is from Oger from vines that were planted in 1938. This bottling is entirely from 1998, though it is not labeled as such. A lovely, delicate floral nose with peaches, stone fruits and brioche. All oak cask ageing lends toastiness in the mouth. This does not detract from the extremely rich mouthfeel with ripe pears, vanilla and an exquisite richness. I am always surprised that this Champagne is 100% chardonnay because of the richness of this effort. A serious Champagne that begs to be paired with Brie or lobster. Compare it to Krug or Salon (with age). Celebrate Easter with any of these Champagnes and don't forget that we are having an instore Champagne tasting on Saturday, April 7! —Scott Beckerley

Esoterica from Italy

For me one of the greatest aspects of Italian wine is the variety. There are so many varietals, blends, styles and philosophies that you would have to really try to become bored with the bounty of Italian wines. One of the many varietals that I have fallen head over heals for is schiava. Indigenous to the Alto Adige, where it is the most widely planted red varietal, it produces what some people think of as Italian Beaujolais. The 2005 Cortaccia Schiava Grigia ($14.99) is a perfect example of how charming and wonderful a wine from this varietal can be. The nose is full of bright red fruits and berries with a very subtle hint of earthiness. On the palate it is medium-light bodied, bright and fresh. It almost drinks like a white wine with juicy acidity. The fruit tones echo those on the nose and are accented with a soft earthy/mineral tone and a faint bitter note to the all but non-present tannins. It is mouth-wateringly good wine! The first sip leaves you begging for more. This is a super versatile wine at the dinner table as well, amazing with a simple soup of chicken stock and tortellini, cure meats and cheese, or even the spicy and savory cuisines of North Africa and the Middle East.

Another gem, the 2005 Marisa Cuomo Ravello ($21.99), from Campania, is a blend of two native varietals, falanghina and biancolella. Grown on the slopes above the Amalfi coast, the vibrant aromatics of this wine move from apple and pear to citrus all the while with a soft/spicy floral tone in the back ground. Fermented and aged in stainless steel, the wine is medium-bodied, pleasantly round and has fresh acidity on the finish. The flavors are reminiscent of the aromatics but with a whisper of minerality. While it would be too easy to drink with a variety of fish dishes (please go ahead a do), it will also pair nicely with grilled vegetables, light risottos, or try this with sheep's milk cheese, both aged and fresh.

Burgundy Bargains

As I write this, I am frantically getting ready to depart to Burgundy, for my annual buying trip. I'll be tasting many of the 2005s while I am there and looking for more great bargains to bring you. And, as you read this, I have just returned, and will be frantically working on a report for you to read. But for now, I want to talk about some bargains available in Burgundy.

Burgundy bargains is not an oxymoron. Some of the best values today in lovely Pinot Noir and Chardonnay come from the Cote d'Or. If you were to buy an estate-grown and bottled Pinot from Oregon or New Zealand, you could easily pay $30 or $40. And you would get a lovely wine. But for half of that sum, you can find delightful Pinot, grown in Vosne Romanée or Savigny Les Beaune, or many other villages. Some of my favorites, in stock as I write this, are: 2004 Bourgogne Rouge, Domaine Camus Bruchon ($16.99), from Savigny, with bright fruit and a nice focus; the 2005 Bourgogne Rouge, Domaine Denis Bachelet ($20.99), from Gevrey-Chambertin, with plush fruit and a lovely bright finish; and the 2005 Haute Cote de Nuits, Frederic Esmonin ($20.99), with fruit simply leaping out of the glass in exuberance and a purple-red hue. For chardonnay, I'd advise the 2005 St. Veran, Domaine des Nembrets ($13.99), with lovely bright fruit and no oak; the 2005 Bourgogne Blanc, Domaine Matrot ($13.99), from Meursault, with bright cirtrus notes and length; and the 2005 Bourgogne Blanc, Domaine Paul Pernot ($18.99), grown in Puligny-Montrachet, with generous fruit and lots of weight. Á Sante!

Rosso di Sera is luscious, balanced, full of red and black fruits, cassis, car- damom, saffron and hints of vanilla. The wine is warm and inviting. Its supple elegance veils its power, shimmering like a veil in a summer breeze. The wine is a series of alternating experiences that leads one to feel the pleasure but never quite understand all of the character. It is power and delicacy, bold and subtle, soft and structured all simultaneously. Rosso di Sera gives one the feeling of a large cat, a lioness, smooth, sculptured rippling muscles, grace, power and a certain inscrutable nature that beckons one's curiosity. The wine is a blend of 90% sangiovese and 10% colorino. The sangiovese provides the backbone and structure while the colorino adds color and texture. If you've ever liked Tig- nanello you're going to love Rosso di Sera! (Greg St.Clair, K&L Italian buyer)

91 points Wine Spectator: "Impressive blackberry, floral and mineral character. Full-bodied, with with velvety tannins and beautiful berry, plum and vanilla flavors. Long and flavorful."

- 2001 La Gerla Brunello di Montalcino ......$42.99 Three Stars! La Gerla is really on in this vintage, coming from the Versante Senese this wine is poetry. The aromas flow out of the glass with a baked apple, cinnamon spice (undeniably unique), and sweet black cherry that is compelling. The center of the wine has great focus, linear yet with ripeness that gives weight on the palate. The finish is balanced, alternating spice and earthy complexities mixed in with sweet ripe fruit. This is really wonderful wine and will age 20+ years easily, yet drinkable now with a few hours of decanting. 2,083 cases produced. (Greg St.Clair, K&L Italian buyer)
- 2001 La Gerla Brunello di Montalcino "Vigna gli Angeli"......$70.99 Five Stars! This is my #2 wine of the vintage. It is a classically styled wine from the versante Senese with layers of spice. Powerful yet sinuous structure no angles or harshness just sweet, sheer power. The length of this wine is impressive, but it is how all of the muscle and power coil themselves together in the center of the wine that makes such a dramatic statement. This wine has a voice, strong, immediate and clear. It has tremendous range. It can hit the high notes in a swirling crescendo of bright fruit aromatics that furiously line up to exit the glass. Yet its real power lays mid palate where a powerful tenor voice thunders across your palate with a vibrato that rivals the San Andreas Fault. This wine has power yet does not seem heavy. It has an elegance, balance and

Sul Tappeto Rosso

As I write this article, the volatility of the 2001 Brunello market makes it too difficult to put anything in writing, and the best way to keep ahead of that game is to be on my Italian Advance email list. So, to start, here are some pre-arrival wines (due end of May 2007) to tickle your fancy! I will tempt you with some of Italy's best Sangiovese! This, however, comes from Chianti. Rocca di Montegrossi is one of Chianti Classico's finest producers and one of my personal favorites. The 2003 vintage in Italy is one of the most misunderstood vintages in recent history. Predictions like that from James Suckling of the Wine Spectator: "The 2002 vintage was insipid in Tuscany and, unfortunately, vintage 2003 is not going to be a huge improvement. Although a handful of extraordinary wines were produced in '03, the vintage is extremely inconsistent," will not inspire many to purchase. It is I who needs to coerce, cajole and charm you into believing that Rocca di Montegrossi's (RdM for the rest of the article) altitude, site, terroir, vineyard age and vineyard work made their wines amongst the extraordinary! Mike P and I visited with Marco Ricasoli Firidolfi, the hands-on owner and direction behind this small winery. Monti in Chianti, a small town in Gaiole in the central highlands of Chianti Classico, is home to RdM.We knew the reputation of the 2003 vintage, but we also knew Marco. He reduced his production of the 2003s by 50% to be able to make a wine up to his standards. The 2003 Rocca di Montegrossi Chianti Classico San Marcellino ($32.99, 1.5L $79.99) is beyond doubt a magnificent wine, while different from the serious 2001. The 2003 is richer, has deeper flavors now and gives a lushness to the mouth rarely seen in Chianti! Because we were shorted so much of the 2003 due to the lesser quantities, Marco dipped into his cellar to re-release some of the incredibly powerful 2001 Rocca di Montegrossi Chianti Classico San Marcellino ($34.99) and the ridiculously sublime 1999 Rocca di Montegrossi Chianti Classico San Marcellino (1.5L $79.99). To go along with the sangiovese-based wine, Marco also produces a 60% merlot 40% cabernet sauvignon blend, the 2003 Rocca di Montegrossi Geremia ($34.99, 1.5L $79.99 1.5L). While I thought the 2003 would be a bit flaccid with these varietals, we were both thrilled with the quality. Aged only in French Tonneaux, this is subtle, rich, spicy, more comfortable and less austere perhaps than the 93 point Robert Parker 2001 version but just as tasty! Very small quantities...don't miss out!

I would be remiss not to mention in the same article the same story for our Barolo producer, Ruggeri Corsini, whose 2002 is really good, from a vintage most everyone has written off before tasting! These pre-arrival prices are truly PRE, and they will go up substantially upon arrival. The 2003 Ruggeri Corsini Barolo ($28.99) comes from their oldest vineyards (30- to 40-years old) and offers stunning concentration and balance, with no over-ripeness at all! The 2003 Ruggeri Corsini Barolo "San Pietro" ($23.99) carries a ridiculous price for the quality, excellent concentration, aromatics... truly amazing at the price. Saluti!

ITALIAN WINES

grace all the while this force attracts all of your senses you can't get away from it; it is the Siren's song ever pulling you in. The finish... well it hasn't yet. This wine is absolutely stunning, balanced enough to drink now with a couple of hours in a decanter but will last 20-30+ years. 541 cases produced. (Greg St.Clair, K&L Italian buyer)

April's Picks!

2005 Bucci Verdicchio Classico dei Castelli di Jesi ($16.95) After many vintages of this wine, I particularly love this 2005. You will find zippy acidity and apricot with a floral-ness on the finish, lots of power and depth on this mineral-driven wine. Here is a perfect wine for sushi, risotto or a spring picnic.

2005 Valle Dell'Acate "Il Frappato" ($17.99) Frappato is an indigenous grape from the commune of Vittoria in Sicily. This is a wine you will want to drink young, with its blueberry and raspberry tones, this is a fresh, crisp light red. Showing its best with prosciutto and melon or with a fish course.

2005 Anna Maria Abbona Dolcetto di Dogliani "Sori dij But" ($13.99) A lot of name for this little wine from the village of Dogliani in Piedmont. I have always been a huge fan of this winery, and 2005 is a GREAT year for Dolcetto. I love the ripe cherries, plum and chocolate tones, balanced with good acidity. Think a grilled portabella mushroom or pasta primavera.

2004 Vietti Barbera d'asti "Tre Vigne" ($15.99) Greg and I had the chance to visit this winery last January, and we are looking forward to bringing in many of their wines over the next year. Starting with the Tre Vigne, this is a big, rich and full-bodied Barbera. On the palate you will find red fruit, blackberries and cassis with a touch of Asti minerals and a long and lingering finish. Put on a movie, gab some salami, cheese and crackers, and don't invite anyone over! Salute!

SPECIALTY SPIRITS

We have many new spirits that have arrived to our stores. There are also hundreds of items that can't fit on the shelves but are available for special order. Check out our website at www.klwines.com for more information. If you are interested in joining my "Whisky Core Group" contact me at susanpurnell@klwines.com.

1986 Bruichladdich "Blacker Still" Islay Single Malt .........$249.99 As Jim McEwan says, "The Oloroso sherry cask give this malt a dusky, vintage sherry color. The body is extremely viscous, warm, rich and responsive. A spiritual pleasure in its prime with the congenial heart warming unique marriage of Islay and Spain."

whisky has developed a deep ruby color, with vibrant red berry fruitiness fused with spices and peat smoke. 45% ABV.

- El Dorado 12-year-old Demerara Guyana Rum......$25.99 Formerly King of Diamonds, this distinctive spirit, aged in oak casks for 12 years and blended to achieve a smooth strength and rich, full-bodied taste, is a rum of superb color, full and fragrant aroma. A sure delight to the most discerning drinker, The El Dorado 12-year-old rum was allotted 95 out of a possible 100 points at the Chicago Beverage Tasting Institute and awarded the gold medal. In describing the El Dorado 12-year-old, the judges said, "Copper. Lush tropical fruit and spice nose. Round, mellow, full bodied palate with powerful fruit, tobacco, and orange peel. Leather and toasty and oak flavors. Hedonistic and well balanced."
- El Dorado 15-year-old Demerara Guyana Rum......$33.99 This premium product of great distinction is a blend of specially selected aged rums, some as old as 25 years, blended to perfection by the company's master blenders and aged in oak casks. To complement this fine product, the rum is packaged in a gold embossed presentation box illustrated with a maritime design, underlying Demerara Distillers' association with ancient maritime traditions. The bottle, a unique custom designed glass, was inspired by the shape of the old hand-blown flasks used on the banks of the Demerara river, centuries ago, by the sugar planters. The Gold Medal was awarded to the El Dorado 15 year at the International Wine and Spirit Competition of London and the International Rum Festival, in the Super Premium Category.
- Flor De Cana Rum 12 Year Centenario Rum ......$28.99 A superior, award-winning full-bodied 12-year-old rum offering a rich amber color and a distinctively smooth taste loaded with flavors of butter, toffee and baked apple. It is a pleasure to sip hand-warmed in a brandy glass, neat or on the rocks. Five Stars, Highest Recommendation from the Spirits Journal.
- 1991 Mortlach Signatory Speyside Single Malt Whisky .......$61.99 Mortlach is a very important blending Speysider that contributes to Johnnie Walker blends. Because of the complexity of flavors developed at an early age, this single is a prize blender. Mortlach is not available as a single malt under its own label and is only available from independent bottlers. This version is a second fill sherry butt that has left the malt softened down with the sherry influence. Still firm in the palate, this malt has rounded out very nicely with good spice and a single trace of peat that lingers at the end.

Duncan Taylor is stunning. The refill sherry cask gives the whisky just the right amount of sweet oak, toasted nuts and hints of tobacco to highlight the whiffs of smoke in the malt. It is extremely youthful for a 28-year-old whisky. A perfect gift for someone celebrating his or her 30th anniversary or birthday.

- Springbank 9-year-old Marsala Wood, Campbeltown ......Inquire Wood type: 7 years in Re-fill Bourbon, 2 years in fresh Marsala Casks; Distilled: October 1996; Bottled - August 2006; Strength: 58% ABV; Color: Russet; Nose: Sugar and spice and all things nice! Rich, sweet and syrupy. Crème caramel, coffee creams and rum and raisin. Forget dessert, just have this instead; Palate: Thick and rich on the palate, the sweetness from the nose develops and stays at the front of your tongue. Hints of fruit, nut and chocolate.
- Wasmund's Single Malt Whisky From Virginia ......$57.99 There is nothing as wonderful as as innovation in the world of whiskey! Here is the skinny from Rick Wasmund: "The foundation of our product is thoroughbred barley from our own private grower and used by no other distillery. We malt our own, in small batches, using a traditional floor malting the way it's been done for centuries in Scotland. When the malt is ready to be dried, we don't use peat! Instead we use the smoke of an apple wood, cherry wood and oak wood fire that is kept at a slow burn for a night and a day. This is another first for single malt whisky that adds to the cascade of finishing flavors. When the malt is ready, it is milled here and mixed with hot water to make a sweet smoky mash that is pumped over to the fermenter where yeast is added and it is fermented out to a distiller's beer. The beer goes through our double pot still and comes out in one-barrel batches. It is said that the smaller the still the better the whisky, by that standard this may well be the best whisky on the market today! The next step is our secret chip and barrel aging process (patent pending). We can only tell you that it involves apple wood, cherry wood and oak chips, special selection and toasting techniques, and more time and passion than could be expected from a larger operation. Our process results in a deep, rich range of finish flavors that is unique."

Bruichladdich - First Born K&L Exclusive (Pre-Arrival) .......$39.99

Due in Fall 2007! Special Pre-Arrival Price of $39.99! Are you ready to be part of history? On Friday, July 21, 2006, while on holiday visiting Islay, Jim McEwan and myself drove up to Bruichladdich Warehouse #13. We were looking for that special cask of 2001 Bruichladdich to have as a K&L Wine Merchant exclusive. What we found was this fantastic Bourbon Cask. We pulled out the bung, plunged in the valinch and poured the whisky into a glass. WOW! Even with all its youthfulness the whisky displayed classic Bruichladdich characteristics. It had the color of fine Champagne. On the nose aromatics of vibrant citrus fruit almost like lemon sherbet with a layer of warm golden honey and a touch of sea breeze saltiness. On the palate it was creamy with lovely weight and a length that lingered very nicely. Jim and I were thrilled.

Our Champagne Club Begins this Month. Join Now!

The K&L Wine Clubs are pleased to announce that our fourth Club, dedicated exclusively to the finest Champagne, begins this month. The Champagne Club sends you two bottles of incredible Champagne bimonthly for only $69.95. Each shipment will usually (not always) combine one bottle from an artisanal grower producer and one bottle from a grand marque producer. Call or email us (thornton@klwines. com) to reserve your place in this exciting Club and receive April's great selections.

One of the great advantages of belonging to a K&L Wine Club is the breadth of the selections. In recent months, we have offered wines from California, France, Italy, Australia, Spain and Germany. Many of our customers have been members of winery wine clubs but dropped them after a while because it seemed to just be more of the same every month. You will never get that feeling with the K&L Wine Clubs because we provide a variety of wines that no other wine club can match. Let us surprise you every month with our amazing finds from the multi-faceted world of fine wine. What differentiates the K&L Wines Clubs is our staff and their expertise. Our wine buyers are dedicated professionals with years of experience, an extraordinary depth of knowledge and a 100% commitment to excellence.

So what are you waiting for? Give us a call or go to our award-winning website to sign up for one of our Clubs, and you will soon be off on your guided tour of the world's finest wines.

-Thornton Jacobs
