K&L Hollywood Grand Opening Tasting Saturday June 9th:

This fantastic event will be held at the K&L Hollywood store (1400 Vine Street) on Saturday, June 9, from 2 to 5 p.m. Wineries attending will include Caymus Vineyards, Château Montelena, WH Smith, Lewis Cellars, Ridge Vineyards, among others! $65 advance purchase.

Some of Clyde's Favorite Drinks

2004 Château Haut Vigneau, Pessac-Leognan$13.99 Château Haut-Vigneau is owned by Eric Perrin, the son of Anthony Perrin of Ch Carbonnieux fame. This property is one of the best value reds in all of Bordeaux. The 2004 is classically built and has fine structure but is delicious to drink right now. Plenty of minerality and red fruit flavors.

d'Arenberg "Peppermint Paddock"

Sparkling Chambourcin, McLaren Vale$21.99 Jim Chanteloup and I tasted this lovely sparkler in January 2006 at the property with Chester d'Arenberg Osborn, the fourth-generation owner/winemaker. We fell in love with it but were told it was not available outside of Australia. After much pleading and begging, Chester finally gave in and granted us 200 cases of six bottles. The wine finally arrived in April 2007, and it was worth the wait. As Chester aptly describes it: "There are some spicy cinnamon as well as sarsaparilla, blackcurrant leaf and some strong boysenberry jam aromas. Chambourcin's exotic background is certainly matched by its youthful, exotic aromas. The palate is refreshing; medium bodied & full flavoured with juicy raspberry, boysenberry and mulberry flavours."

Taittinger Prelude Champagne$49.99

2000 Roederer "Cristal" Champagne$219.99 I first tasted the Prelude at our SONA dinner in Hollywood in April. I and every dinner attendee loved its freshness and focus. Plenty of apply flavor and a fine bead. Super value. Of course, on that very special occasion why not spring for "Cristal." The 2000 is outstanding.

1963 Croft Port$169.99 One of the greatest Port vintages of all time. It is now almost impossible to find 1963s. This Croft is perfect right now and a superb value. Must decant!

2006 Bordeaux: It All Depends on the Prices

As of this writing on May 5, only a handful of châteaux have released their 2006 prices. Most of these properties are the lesser-known, lesser-priced châteaux. The more famous ones to open are Sociando Mallet, Gruaud Larose and Chasse Spleen—each about 10% to 18% below 2005 opening prices. We need the big names to open at substantially bigger reductions than this.

Now that Mr Suckling and Mr Parker and K&L have released their reports on 2006, all of the other châteaux can open at prices they think will be attractive to buyers. With the weak dollar, we here in the U.S. are hoping for 30% to 50% price reductions for the top wines of 2006 (versus their 2005 prices). If we see these kinds of reductions, we could have a good futures campaign in 2006 Bordeaux. Meanwhile, the great 2005 Bordeaux are selling very fast and at high prices. —Clyde Beffa Jr

Brick's Bordeaux Picks

Let's start this month with a couple of screaming values in the world of Bordeaux Blanc. Both these wines come from one of our favorite producers of this under-appreciated zesty white wine region, Denis Dubourdieu. The 2005 Château Reynon Blanc, Graves ($11.99) is full of beeswax, roasted chestnuts and lemon oil. This zippy little number has a lovely weight. It is refreshing and perfect for lighter fish dishes and simple game. But if you need something a bit richer and more serious, the 2005 Clos Floridene Blanc, Graves ($19.99) may just be the wine for you. With its surprising flinty, smoky nature and truck loads of minerality, this is intense stuff. Add some vanilla mousse, clementine and a touch of duck liver pate on the palate, and you have a wine that will age for 5-8 years with ease.

This month's steal is the 2003 Château Larrivaux, Haut-Medoc ($13.99). At well under $20, this is one of those wines that people will be buying by the case all summer long. Why? Well, with its new-world ripeness of red plum, black raspberry and licorice, this is totally crowd pleasing. Drink now and often. Also this month we have two wonderful offerings from the much forgotten 2001 vintage. The 2001 Château Grand Puy Lacoste, Pauillac ($38.99) is pure elegance. Wild red berry infused whipped cream comes to mind, silky, ripe and perfect to enjoy now. This finishes with a bit of coffee and fine-grain tannin that keeps everything tied together. If you're looking for something a bit larger in scope, the 2001 Château Pichon-Baron, Pauillac ($67.99) is perfect. It shows hallmark flavors of tobacco and cedar while also displaying powerful density and concentration of flavor. Gobs of persistent spice, all while being richly fruited—a powerhouse of a wine! — Bryan Brick

Bearden's Bordeaux Picks

2005 Château Souvenir, Bordeaux ($10.99) For a decade this has been one of our best selling values from Bordeaux. Aromas of deep red fruits, licorice and a hint of menthol waft from this young beauty. The palate is deep and fruity showing sweet blackberry, cherry and vanilla bean. There is no obvious oak influence to obscure the fresh finish, which shows subtle spice and a mouth-watering smack of tartness. Delicious!

2005 Mylord, Bordeaux ($10.99 750ml, $20.99 1.5L) This unbelievable bargain seems to get better every time we re-taste it. This is so thick and rich there is an almost cherry syrup character in the mid-palate of this sweet, round bargain. Robert Parker calls this stunning value a "sleeper of the vintage." It must be tasted to be believed.

2004 Château Bernadotte, Haut-Médoc ($16.99) This over-achieving property has turned out another winner from the excellent and well-priced 2004 vintage. Complex aromas of earth, mint, black cherry and darker fruit jump from this wine. The elegant body is alive with red currant and licorice notes and a very fresh and palate-cleansing finish. A complex, classic bargain.

2003 Château Franc La Rose, St-Emilion ($22.99) This seductive value reminds us of what we all loved so much about the warm, sunny 2003 Bordeaux vintage. This is very dark, deep and ripe with some flashy oak shadings on the nose. Full, round and rich, this has tons of black fruit flavors that are plush and broad across the opulent palate. The finish here is sweet and long with just enough ripe tannis to hold everything together. Just beautiful!

2003 Clos de la Vielle Eglise, Pomerol ($49.99) This dark-purple wine has compelling aromas of flowers, spice, sweet herbs and toast. Spicy black currants, mineral and roasted herb flavors blend seamlessly in this concentrated, structured classic. This sweet, balanced, complex and elegant beauty has all the hallmarks of being able to age effortlessly but is great for dinner tonight with decanting. —Steve Bearden

2006 Bordeaux Futures

It is May 9, and we must go to press with this newsletter without having many 2006 Bordeaux opening prices. Everything is stalled, partly because in France very few people work this May so far (holidays May 1 and May 8 and bridge days April 30 and May 7). Another reason for the stalling is the apparent selling problems of the wines that already opened. Maybe the property sold out, but many negociants have not sold the first wines to release! Wines such as Sociando Mallet and Gruaud-Larose opened too high for the US market. May as well buy the 2004s and 2005s of these wines. Hopefully, the next few weeks will see some "reasonable" prices for 2006. Look for the remaining 2005s; they are selling out quickly.

Ch. Gruaud-Larose: Distinguished, Distinctive and Delicious!

Many wine lovers believe that St-Julien is the most perfect place on earth for wine, and it is very hard to argue with them. If you are looking for action of any sort, this is not the place to visit; it's scary quiet! But, if you are looking for great wines in a diversity of styles it is here in this 3- mile stretch of ancient gravel deposits that you will find real treasures. At the southern border you have wines of great elegance such as Ch. Beychevelle and Branaire-Ducru, at the northern border the great vineyard of Léoville and wines of masculine power at Barton and Las Cases. In the middle you have wines that can be silky smooth like Ducru-Beacaillou and that red that hooked me on the wines of Bordeaux for life, Ch. Gruaud-Larose.

The year was 1980 and when I asked the my first wine mentor in Redwood City Mr. Norm Jacobs to recommend a wine that would be a great example of classic Bordeaux. He named the second growth Gruaud-Larose. The vintage was 1976, a very early harvest because of the extremely hot summer that was followed by periods of rain in late August and September. Those conditions created incredible/expansive aromatics that intrigued me so much that I bought a bottle every Saturday night for a month! I could not wait to get my nose back in the glass to see if all those distinctive flavors were still in there.

The style of Gruaud is unique, and the vineyard blend has a lot to do with this. Made from 57% cabernet sauvignon, 30% merlot, 8% cabernet franc, 3% petit verdot and 2% malbec, it is one of the few wines left in Bordeaux that still use all five grape varietals. The wine always has a deep robe of regal old-vine fruit with hints of tobacco, leather and spicy/herbaceous earth tones. Gruaud is a wine of harmony, never overly masculine, tannic or over extracted, but it's not a lightweight either. It is an amazingly consistent, classy and elegant wine. In the last 30 years the estate has changed ownership a few times, and those owners have left their mark in the form of millions of dollars invested into new cellars and in the vineyard. These investments combined with the presence of the same technical director since 1970, Mr. George Pauli, have kept Gruaud great.

Hats off to Mr. Pauli who has traveled with the Union des Grand Crus for years to pour his wine. After years we finally arranged the perfect forum to showcase these wines, a five-course dinner at Cetrella restaurant, which took place April 22, 2007, with the new export director David Lunay. All of the wines showed fantastically, perfect snapshots of the weather conditions that created them. It is also very important to point out the great value that Gruaud continues to offer in contrast to other second growths and all the first growths that have gone absolutely mad with their pricing.

2005 Gruaud-Larose, Pre-Arrival ($56.99) Brilliant, bright fruit of berries and earth, complete wine, wonderfully balanced and long finish. Great.

2004 Gruaud-Larose, Pre-Arrival ($35.99) Tightly wound and compact like many 2004s, but the fruit is deep and I am sure this wine will be just fine though it will need 10-15 years to develop and open.

2003 Gruaud-Larose ($57.99) Very rich wine with lots of glossy fruit that comes at you in waves. Soft and expansive, complex wine, like many 2003s it will be accessible a bit earlier but do not drink it all young! Grauud ages fantastically, and this will be great at 20 years old.

1999 Gruaud-Larose ($49.99) A soft, delicious wine, not quite ready but getting there. 1999 is the best non-famous vintage I've ever tasted. A super deal.

1996 Gruaud-Larose (Inquire) This wine has many of the qualities of the 1976. It has lots of spicy/zesty strong fruit. It could use a little of the flesh that the 1999 exhibits, but this is non-manipulated wine and a 1996.

1995 Gruaud-Larose ($59.95) What a deal! Over 10 years of age and a very good Gruaud. You are just starting to get the hint of cheese on the nose, which lets you know the wine is coming around. The fruit is good and ripe, and like most 1995s it has good focus and is not really quite ready yet, so hold on another five years or so for something special like the 1989.

1989 Gruaud-Larose ($94.99) This is why you wait! Perfectly integrated and perfectly ready to enjoy. The aromas take me back to the 1976. Serve with the cheese and drink like a king!

Rhone Values!

At the risk of sounding like a broken record, here are two more seriously delicious 2005 reds from the South of France. These two wines, both selected and imported by master sommelier Fran Kysela, exemplify what makes wines from these areas so great. Gorgeous purity of fruit, but never at the expense of character and typicity. They also represent unbelievable value and will certainly not be around for too long. I would definitely get on these before it's too late!

2005 Coteaux du Languedoc St.-Félix de Lodez "Les Hauts de la Brune" ($8.99) Back in stock and better than ever is the new vintage of this spectacularly delicious red from the South of France! Last year's 2004 received 90 points from the Wine Spectator and was designated a Best Buy. Needless to say, 200 cases of this beauty flew out the door almost immediately! Fruit forward, fresh and clean tasting, with a gorgeous purity to the raspberry, cherry and red plum flavors. Mineral, graphite and spice fill the firm finish. Syrah, grenache and mourvèdre. Please get on this new vintage before history repeats itself!

2005 Lirac Domaine de la Mordorée "La Dame Rousse" ($14.99) The 2005 La Dame Rousse from Lirac is composed of 50% grenache and 50% syrah from 40-year-old vines. For 2005, the brothers (Christophe and Fabrice) Delorme have crafted a powerful and structured Lirac redolent with dark purple fruits, black olive and bittersweet chocolate. Although it can be consumed this evening with a couple hours of decanting (and a juicy leg of lamb!), this cuvee shows tremendous promise and will no doubt impress with a couple years of cellar time. This Rhone red is truly one of the overachievers in 2005!

Jim C's View Down Under

As you know by now, K&L has a number of wine buyers who travel the world to select from specific regions. This allows us to bring new wines to you direct, such as these two such wines from Australia.

N.V. d'Arenberg "Peppermint Paddock" Sparkling Chambourcin McLaren Vale South Australia ($21.99) This is probably the only single-vineyard sparkling Chambourcin in the world. The vines are from a vineyard surrounded by peppermint gums. After crushing, the must is transferred to open top fermenters with the skins submerged under the free run juice. Pressed viognier skins are added, leading to a final concentration of about 5% at assemblage. The base wine is from the 2005 vintage with reserve wines from 1994 and 1996. Finally, when the wine is separated from its lees, its liqueur de triage is with the d'Arenberg fortified Shiraz. From the black-purple mousse, aromas of black raspberry, violets, mint and dark cherry explode. On the palate, the wine is not heavy, with black and blueberry flavors that mingle with toffee, red licorice and minerals supported by good acidity and integrated tannins. The finish is long and vibrant.

2005 Hewitson "Private Cellar" Shiraz-Mourvèdre Barossa Valley South Australia ($26.99) Private Cellar is meant to express the best from a vintage, and 2005 was a particularly dry and moderately warm year with a long even ripening season. The wine went through fermentation in new French oak and spent another 17 months without racking. The blend of 75% shiraz and 25% mourvèdre, offers a wine of great power and intensity with superb balance and grace. The bouquet is full of cassis, blackberry, dark chocolate, a hint of new leather and spice. On the palate there are supple ripe tannins with a persistent and complex finish. —Jimmy C

Summer Sippers

June has arrived, and we've been blessed with some fine weather, so it's time to stock up for those BBQs, park picnics, pool-side parties, and/or for that refreshing post-work glass. Whether it's a sassy, supple Rhone blanc or a concentrated, focused Tavel Rosé, surely one of these will give your palate pleasure.

If you haven't had the 2006 Domaine Segries Tavel Rosé ($12.99) yet, there is no better time than the present. Laser precise, full of pure juicy strawberry fruits that reach record depth, and great acidity and structure, it's truly a marriage of fun and focus. The blend is 50% grenache, 30% cinsault, 15% clairette and 5% syrah, from perhaps the most notable appellation for rosé production. Don't let this one slip by; it'll go fast.

The 2006 Mas Neuf Costieres de Nimes Blanc ($10.99) is down right scrumptious. This blanc is a blend of 85% grenache blanc and 15% rousanne. This little tootsie has rounded edges, soft in all the right places, yet firm and elegant at the same time. She's more or less the girl next door of the wine world. There's nothing esoteric about her; austere without being Spartan, with no oak, all stainless steel to capture her pure essence. Fresh cut white flowers on the nose and fresh juice sliding down the palate. —Keelyn Healy

Lip-Smackingly Good!

Summer is still a way off for the Bay Area, but I can't help but recall delicious childhood summers of running barefoot, brazenly sporting Lip Smackers lip gloss. In the hopes that June this year will defy its typical coat of gloom in Northern California, here are two unabashedly lipsmackingly delicious wines for the summer.

2006 Picpoul de Pinet Hughes Beaulieu ($7.99) Picpoul means "lip stinger," which refers to the high acidity of its must. True to its name, this is one zingy white. Crisp, dry, and aromatic, Picpoul is often referred to as the Muscadet of the South. As you might have guessed, it's a wonderful companion to seafood, shellfish and well, pic-nicking. In fact, at this price, it's the wine to reach for whenever refreshment is in order.

2004 Côtes du Rhône Château de Montfaucon "Baron Louis" ($17.99) Smoke and ash frame dark plums, morello cherries and licorice. Warm, generous and full-bodied, this velvety Cotes du Rhone drinks like a caress. It can be consumed from the first year or cellared for up to eight to ten years. It would be spectacular with a Moroccan tagine or couscous. It will also shine with simply grilled or roast fare.

CABERNET PICK OF THE MONTH!

2003 Sequoia Grove, Napa$27.99 If you are a fan of classic Napa Cab look no further than this wine. Round in the mouth with soft, supple tannins and well-integrated acid, the weight of the wine is delicate and full of finesse but with a silky, long finish.

Ehlers Estate

Ehlers Estate has 39 acres of vineyard land that is farmed biodynamically by winemaker and vineyard manager Rudy Zuidema. The terrain is gently sloped, and the property is divided into 24 individual blocks. Ehlers Estate is a "not-for-profit" winery and is held in trust for the Leducq Fountation. Jean and Sylviane Leducq established the trust in 1996 to fund the Foundation, which supports international cardiovascular research. We tasted the current lineup of wines in the shop the other day, here were our favorites:

2004 Ehlers Estate Napa Merlot ($25.99) This is a big, dark, fleshy Merlot that doesn't dry out in the back end. It is lush and rich, and shows flavors of mocha, vanilla, blackberry and ripe plums. Blended with 16% cabernet sauvignon, this wine shows lots of structure and complexity without being harsh and tannic.

2004 Ehlers Estate Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($26.99) The Cabernet is a blend of 85% cabernet sauvignon, 2% cabernet franc, 12% merlot and 1% petit verdot. This juicy wine is an explosion of black fruits, vanilla and spicy minerals, which linger on the finish. A great buy in Napa Cabernet for under $30!

2004 Ehlers Estate St. Helena "1886" ($56.99) The "1886" is 100% cabernet sauvignon and is considered Ehlers Estate flagship wine. The 2004 vintage was macerated on the skins for 33 days to contribute to the extreme complexity of this amazing Cabernet. Lots of concentration, balance and depth of fruit will allow this wine to age well over the next 10 years. Total production: 2,380 cases. -Trey Beffa

Pure Wine: Varner

The whole natural wine movement is pretty clearly established in France, but what about in the U.S.? It's not a unified movement like it is overseas, but there are definitely people doing the right thing. Bob and Jim Varner planted their vineyards in the Santa Cruz Mountains in the '80s. They'd heard that vines planted on their own rootstock produce better wines, so that's what they did. In the late 19th century an epidemic spread throughout the vineyards of Europe; a root parasite called phylloxera decimated the vineyards of France and then made its way throughout the rest of the continent. A solution to the problem was found in the roots of native American grape vines. When the classic European wine varieties were grafted on American rootstock, they were able to resist phylloxera. The epidemic was cured, but many people claim that the quality of the wine was affected. Two of the Varner's vineyards have been producing Chardonnay from vines growing on their own roots for 23 years. These vines are still healthy and produce wines that are distinctive and speak of the vineyards where they grow. Farming is non-interventionist; the Varners let the microbial life of the soil do its own thing. Wine making is simple and relatively hands off. Fermentation is done by wild yeast, sulfur is only added at bottling. The resulting wines are delicious and distinctive, crisp and lively expressions of Chardonnay with healthy acidity and individual character. The 2005 Varner Ampitheater Block Chardonnay ($27.99) is crisp and citrusy, while the 2005 Varner Home Block Chardonnay ($29.99) is pleasantly nutty with a touch of earthiness. The vineyards are adjacent, but they each have a unique flavor-and that is the goal of natural wine-—Paul Courtright making.

as did Robert Parker and the 2006 is in a similar style. Typical cool-climate Chardonnay, this wine shows tremendous freshness, acidity and bright citric fruit with a rich texture and long, mouth coating finish. Great with a variety of foods, like fish, chicken and even light pork dishes.

Chip's Quips

When the weather starts warming up here in SoCal my thoughts turn to Pinot Noir. I'm a meat eater, and we're into grilling weather now: pork chops, flank steaks, lamb chops, any-thing that you can burn for five minutes a side over an open flame. Pinot is lighter bodied so it's ideal for the shorts and tee shirt scene that is L.A. in the summer time.

2005 Morgan "Double L" Pinot Noir ($44.99) Dan and Donna Lee, the owners of Morgan Winery, bought this vineyard specifically to build the winery here. Strawberries and blueberries combine on the front palate with a burst of flavor. There are plenty of other nuances on the nose as well as the back palate, vanilla, red currant and baked cherries are just a few. This is serious Pinot, but don't let that keep you away from the barby.

2005 Hitching Post "Cork Dancer 5.1" Pinot Noir ($23.99) This is an obvious choice when it comes to our theme of cooking in the outdoors. One of Hitching Post's owners, Frank Ostini, is also the chef at Hitching Post Restaurant. Frank has been known to grill just about anything, and his and Gray Hartley's Pinots go with just about anything with black lines on it.

2005 Jalama "Cargasacchi-Jalama" Santa Barbara County Pinot Noir ($32.99) This is a rich and intense Pinot with wood spice and earth notes complimented with dark cherry and black fruits. It's long and full all the way through to the finish. Mark Cargasacchi is a wonderful grower/winemaker who makes wines that go perfectly with... you guessed it, Bar-B-Que.

Merlot

Boutique Corner

This month I want to tell you about three newcomers to K&L Wine Merchants. I had a chance to try them in the last couple of months and thought all three wines were great. All three are small production wines whose owners take great pride in their results.

2004 Ceja Vino de Casa Napa Valley Red Wine ($17.99) A blend of 52% pinot noir and 48% syrah...yes, syrah. A very strange blend but the wine works. Bright cherry and plum fruit with a great infusion of spice, ending with a little oak flavor. This is the first wine I've tasted that used these two varietals so evenly blended. Give it a go.

2004 High Valley Cabernet Sauvignon ($19.99) The winery is located above Clear Lake. Hillside terrain and volcanic soil give this wine a bright, mineraly focused touch. Black cherry, chocolate and spice make this an excellent, balanced California Cab.

2003 Medlock Ames Alexander Valley Cabernet Sauvignon ($49.99) Medlock Ames is thoroughly committed not only to organic farming, but biodynamic farming. Biodynamic practices incorporate whole-earth techniques that take into account water, land and animal populations as part of the agricultural practice, rather than just avoiding certain harmful pesticides. The purity in the farming comes thru in the beauty of this wine. Dark cherry and cassis with chocolate, plum and spice, balanced and structured, this wine will bring Alexander Valley back to the top of the list when talking about great cabernet growing areas.

See you in the City...

Sunny Spain's Summertime Favorites!

2005 Palacio de Menade, Cuevas de Castilla, Cuvee RS, Rueda ($8.99) K&L's favorite Rueda is back and ready for your summertime sipping. Bright and crisp, this Verdejo has the freshness and liveliness of some of the top Loire Valley whites for half the price. Enjoy this unoaked wine with fresh seafood hot off the grill!

2004 Cuatro Pasos Bierzo ($9.99) This 100% mencia is a revelation! It is a red with plenty of ripe fruit and spice. The perfectly balanced acidity lifts the flavors in order to create one heck of a charming red. I love this wine with roast chicken!

2003 Biurko Los Valles Crianza Rioja ($11.99) Made from 100% tempranillo, this is aged in a mix of French and American oak. This complex red is grown at high altitude (over 1200 feet) with vines between 15-20 years old. The rich concentrated fruit is beautifully balanced with acidity and minerality. This wine is a must try with rack of lamb...oh yeah, and it's certified organic in the EU!

2003 Viña Izadi, Rioja, Crianza ($13.99) Our favorite Rioja red is back and with a new vintage. Filled with ripe black cherry fruit, this tinto has plenty of oak, depth and structure. Classic in every way, the Izadi is a great success in a year that saw many fat and flabby wines. Run to the store now and get some lamb chops. Awesome!

2005 Bodegas Arrocal Arrocal ($14.99) 90 points Wine Advocate: "The 2005 Arrocal is 100% Tempranillo aged 4 months in a mixture of new and used French and American oak. Purple-colored, it offers up fragrant aromas of cedar, spice box, blueberry, and blackberry. Supple-textured, the wine has gobs of sweet fruit, soft tannins, and excellent balance. Drink this outstanding value over the next 3-5 years." —Anne Pickett

South America's Surge in Fine Wine

In the most recent edition of The World Atlas of Wine, Jancis Robinson calls South America the most important wine-producing continent after Europe. It is a bold statement, but indeed a declaration proven by outside interest in the area. Consider all of the foreign investment in Argentina and Chile: France (Jacques and Francois Lurton, Cheval Blanc's Pierre Lurton, Mouton Rothschild), Spain (Miguel Torres) and the United States (Beringer, Laurel Glen's Patrick Campbell, Kendall Jackson) have all developed new projects and a variety of styles of wine. Argentina is the world's fifth biggest wine producer (right behind the U.S.). Chilean wines continue to compete successfully, especially with Cabernets. Here are three values at K&L:

2005 Bodegas Correas Malbec Reserva ($10.99) This is serious wine! A nose of plum, licorice, cassis and roasted coffee beans leads to a palate full of dark plums. Somehow this wine tastes more like an internationally styled, young European wine than a new world one. If you like young Bordeaux and Spanish reds, give this a try.

2003 Veramonte Primus ($12.99) A blend of merlot, carmenere and cabernet sauvignon, Primus is Chilean through and through. A slightly herbaceous (not overly so) nose also shows some smoked meat, both characteristics that fade with time in the glass, giving way to bright cherry. On the palate, the wine is savory and structured.

2005 Kingston Family Vineyards Tobiano Pinot Noir, Casablanca ($13.99) From the cool, nearly coastal region of Casablanca, Tobiano is a project of Atherton, California's own Courtney and Jim Kingston. With its bright, candied cherry notes, this wine reminds me of central coast Pinot Noir. Support homegrown talent and try this tasty Pinot! —Joe Manekin

Adventures of Super Meric

From a land far far away and unknown (for good reason: it's made out of NERF), lives Super Meric. Imagine, if you will, The Greatest American Hero with a twist of Jerry Seinfeld all wrapped up in a spandex suit that is holding on for dear life, due to his giant belly, which is barely being held up by his spindly little legs. One morning Super Meric wakes up feeling unfulfilled and empty. He had heard tails of a funny juice that comes from grapes and makes people smile. He was so intrigued he decided to set out and find this magical elixir. So, he set off on his journey to a place in Germany called Rudesheim, to seek out Johannes Leitz. As Super Meric came fumbling out of the sky he crashed right into the lap of Johannes. Frightened, not because of the thing that crashed into his lap but more of the outfit he was wearing, Johannes tossed him aside like a wet noodle. A little shaken up Super Meric jumped up and demanded some of this magic juice then, tripped over his cape. Not exactly sure what was going on, and still quite taken with the outfit, Johannes poured a generous helping of one of his newest wines, the 2006 Josef Leitz Rudesheimer Klosterlay Kabinett ($16.99). Noticing its rich minty aromatics Super Meric decided to take a sip to see what would happen. He put the glass to his mouth, soaking his mustache, and he drank. A heavenly combination of crushed rocks, creamy spearmint, rich apricots and a finish that would linger in his confused little memory forever. Stayed tune for more adventures of SUPER MERIC! —Eric Story

Loire Valley: Jo Landron

Jo Landron is one of the very top producers in Muscadet. He has been completely organic since 1999 and is now on the way to being certified Bio-Dynamic. He uses no chemicals of any kind in the vines, hand harvests, has natural yeast fermentations and plows all his vineyards. We are very pleased to be importing these wines directly from Jo, making these some of the greatest values in the store. Our container has recently landed and we are proud to present the following wines.

2006 Muscadet Amphibolite ($10.99) This cuvee is vinified with a very short time on the lees, without chaptalization, making this a super fresh and lower alcohol wine perfect with fresh oysters or as an aperitif. Drink within the first couple of years.

2005 Muscadet Hermine d'or ($10.99) This cuvee has more depth and spice, a more pungent nose and a slightly more leesy feel. It spends 6-12 months on the lees. Jo suggests this with cracked crab or after 2-3 years in bottle with fried fish.

2004 Fief du Breil ($14.99) Jo's top cuvee from siliceous clay on orthogneiss is awash in minerals with smoke and exotic fruit aromas. This bottling can take extended ageing and will surprise you with its class and individuality when served alongside pan-roasted prawns, scallops or firmer white fish. Drink Muscadet!

Guns, Tricycles And Port, a Lethal Combination

Good June to you nice people, Norwegians and non-Norwegians alike, and what a lovely month it is—Juno, the month of Father's day, Flag day and the Summer Solstice; June is National Rivers month, Rose month and Dairy month, as well as International People Skills (?) month, so it is definitely not Jim Barr's month.

Speaking if Mr. Barr, we wish him well with his recovery after surgery to remove an ugly growth. I know what you are thinking, and so did the doctors. They began to remove his head until they looked at his chart and realised it was Jim's foot they needed to work on.

I have port. I know it is warm outside, but you can save it for a rainy day, because it is worth it. The 1985 Quinta do Noval ($64.99) is ripe and supple, and is absolute perfection at 22 years of age. The port market has been lean of late, and we just don't see deals like this very often.

A warm welcome: K&L has a few new employees of note, and we wish them a long and prosperous "probation period": Joe Manekin, Keyboardist and Pinot Blanc aficionado; Doug Davidson, former airline pilot (you are now free to move about the wine shop Doug); Bryan Brick, the pride of Hayward and loyal subscriber to the Meat Of The Month Club; and Gary Lai, professional boxer and critic of Chinese drivers. Gary is Chinese.

Cronin update: There are still many fabulous wines to choose from this late, great producer. Duane Cronin was a Santa Cruz Mountains winemaker extraordinnaire and a neighbour to boot. Selections from this artisan winemaker include the 2000 Chardonnay from the Sleepy Hollow vineyard (made famous by the Talbott winery), the 1999 Syrah/Zinfandel/Grenache blend, in an exciting Provence style; the 97 Zin/Grenache, spicy and racy. Also featured are the '99 San Ysidro Merlot, the perfect blend of the new and old world styles and the 98 Central Coast Pinot Noir, showing an abundance of Ranier cherry fruit. This is perhaps the best value Pinot Noir in the shop. All of the above wines will set you back only $9.99 per bottle.

Jim's June Gems

Quite a few of you have left messages and emails the last few months as to when I plan to return to work. It will be during this month of June, unless I have further complications from the operation. In any case, thank you for your concern, and all will be well soon.

And the rosé gems keep on coming... Two wonderful, direct import rosés are available now, one a repurchase by our Loire Valley wine buyer, Jeff Vierra, the 2005 Domaine La Grange Tiphaine Touraine Rosé ($9.99), and the other by our French Regional wine buyer, Mulan Chan, the 2006 Domaine Begude Vin De Pays d'Oc Pinot Rosé ($12.99). Produced from a field blend of gamay, grolleau and cot (the Loire's name for malbec), the Tiphaine is brilliant pink/red in Enjoy the wines!

Champagne's First Biodynamic Estate

One of the highlights of my trip to Champagne this April was visiting Champagne Fleury in the Aube. Biodynamic viticulture is a complicated subject, and I was very pleased to get a chance to learn about it from one of the world's most respected practitioners. The family estate has been growing grapes since the 1850s. Emile Fleury (the great grandfather) was the first to plant grafted stock in the Aube in 1901, and they were also the first in the Aube to bottle their own wine in 1929. When the current generation took over in the 1970s, the viticulture was changed to organic. By 1989, Mr. Fleury converted to biowith the whole estate certified by Demeter in 1992, another first, this time for the whole Champagne region.

I have never seen vineyards anywhere like the Fleury estate. The village, like Brouillet, is planted to many crops besides grapes, and that in combination with Mr. Fleury's strict methods have created a vitality that can be felt when standing between the rows. I will organize a special tasting when I get back so I can also show you all the pictures. I will say now that these vineyards are in stark contrast with his neighbors.

The Fleury "Carte Rouge" Brut Champagne ($29.99 750ml, $15.99 375ml and $12.99 200ml) is a zesty, pure pinot noir cuvee. The dosage is very low, and this is one of the driest Champagnes we have, but it has a wonderful black cherry fruit quality that reminds us that it is all pinot! It is long and refreshing and very well balanced.

The Fleury Brut Rosé Champagne ($34.99 750ml, $19.99 375ml and $15.99 200ml) is also 100% pinot noir. In the glass it has a wonderful, fresh pinot noir nose of strawberry fruit and forest air intrigue. On the palate it has a great small bubble texture with magnificent depth and terroir. It is a very exciting bottle of bubbles!

Please ask about the late disgorged 1996, on its way in August! Andplease contact me anytime at garywestby@klwines.com or 877-KLWines (877-559-4637) ex 2728.—Gary Westby

The Miracle of Launois

For those of you who are fans of Blanc de Blancs Champagne, here is the ultimate bubbly made of 100% chardonnay...outside of Krug Clos des Mesnil, that is! The house of Launois was established in 1872 in Mesnil. All fruit sourcing is 100% Grand Cru fruit with vineyards in Mesnil, Oger, Cramant and Avize. Traditional presses are used, and seven generations of the Launois family have made these outstanding Champagnes. Currently Bernard and Dany Launois are at the helm to continue the tradition of being one of Champagne's finest estate grower/producers. Unlike most other Blancs de Blancs, the line of Launois Champagnes mingle crisp acidity with delicate, creamy bubbles. Last month, we featured the wonderful 2000 vintage with picks from Ariston and Franck-Bonville, among others. This month, I am pleased to introduce the 2000 Launois Brut Blanc de Blancs ($32.99). Like the 1996, 2000 is a rich vintage that will have more longevity than the 1998. Crisp green apples, dough and a hint of vanilla on the long finish. To contrast the 2000 Launois, there is the NV Launois "Quartz" Blanc de Blancs ($29.99). While most other Champagnes have six atmospheres of pressure, the Quartz only has three. The result is a very creamy effort with rich, apple fruit, brioche and cream. Extended ageing on the lees. The last of these beauties to round out the trio is the NV Launois Cuvee Reserve ($29.99). This wine is composed primarily of the 2002 vintage with 10% of the 2001 reserve stock blended in. Four years of ageing on the lees. Crisp apples (surprise!), pine nuts and minerals. Broad and rich with a lingering finish of polished minerality. Enjoy and Happy Father's Day! -Scott Beckerley

Unusual Italians

2005 Cantina Valle Isarco "Aristos" Muller Thurgau ($19.99) Muller thurgau is not a noble variety, but do not hold that against it. It was created in the late 19th century as a cross between riesling and sylvaner hoping to breed a grape that would mature and grow well in cool climates. The fruit character leans to the tropical, think chilled mango! Surprisingly, this wine has a moderate amount of richness that accentuates the roundness of the fruit and moderates its brisk acidity. The aromatics run from tropical to yellow fruits with soft floral hints and a subtle mineral tang.

2005 Ermacora Refosco ($15.99) Here is another unusual varietal from Northern Italy's Friuli region. Dark berries, crisp red fruits, minerals and a touch of spice, this wine will not exhibit the richness that you would associate with Bordeaux, think more Loire Valley Cabernet Franc. It is bright, structured and has good length, in other words, a perfect dinner wine. Fire up the BBQ, try out that new pork roast recipe, this wine will work with you! It is hard to find a wine this user friendly with as much complexity and depth!

2003 Felsina Chianti Classico Riserva "Rancia" (24.95) It seems to be very easy to overlook Chianti these days, with all of the press and acclaim that Brunello receives. It is also not the first place that most people look to for full and rich Italian reds. This is a wine that will change that. It is medium to medium-full-bodied with plenty of dense dark berry fruit, spice, earth and floral notes on the nose. The palate is structured with ripe and round tannins that make there presence known but do not dominate the wine. Both red and dark fruits accentuated with soft almost graphite earthy tones lie beneath it. This can be drunk tonight, with decanting, or can spend the next 5 to 7 years in your cellar. —Kirk Walker

Pour Votre Plaisir

Tuesday Night Burgundy?

One of the best-kept secrets for many customers is the wealth of delicious estate-grown and bottled Burgundy available for less than $30. If you have to have the top Grands Cru form the top handful of producers, Burgundy is not a cheap game. But if you look a little deeper, there are some great deals to match Pinot from anywhere in the world.

From Olivier Guyot in Marsannay is the 2004 Olivier Guyot Bourgogne Rouge ($17.99). It is organically farmed, with a horse rather than a tractor, and offers delightful spice and concentration. The 2004 Edmund Cornu Bourgogne Rouge ($18.99) is bottled unfined and unfiltered, comes from Ladoix and Chorey and is light, bright and focused. The 2004 Denis Bachelet Bourgogne Rouge ($20.99) comes from Gevrey-Chambertin, and from one of my favorite producers. It is sweet and pure and earned an "outstanding!" from Burghound.

If you step up in price just a few dollars there are some impressive village wines available. From Savigny-lès-Beaune come some great values, such as the 2004 Domaine Pavelot Savigny-lès-Beaune ($24.99), with a fruity nose and a nice sense of balance and minerality. Or, try the 2004 Edmund Cornu Ladoix ($26.99), which is high toned and bright, with raspberry notes. Finally, how about a 2004 Olivier Jouan Chambolle-Musigny ($29.99)? Grown on the vineyard next to Christophe Roumier's Clos de la Bussiere, this combines structure, earth and silk, all in one. Á Sante!

Rosso di Sera is luscious, balanced, full of red and black fruits, cassis, cardamom, saffron and hints of vanilla. The wine is warm and inviting. Its supple elegance veils its power, shimmering like a veil in a summer breeze. The wine is a series of alternating experiences that leads one to feel the pleasure but never quite understand all of the character. It is power and delicacy, bold and subtle, soft and structured all simultaneously. Rosso di Sera gives one the feeling of a large cat, a lioness, smooth, sculptured rippling muscles, grace, power and a certain inscrutable nature that beckons one's curiosity. The wine is a blend of 90% sangiovese and 10% colorino. The sangiovese provides the backbone and structure while the colorino adds color and texture. If you've ever liked Tignanello you're going to love Rosso di Sera! (Greg St.Clair, K&L Italian buyer)

2001 La Gerla Brunello di Montalcino$42.99
Three Stars! La Gerla is really on in this vintage. Coming from the Versante Senese, this wine is poetry. The aromas flow out of the glass with a baked apple, cinnamon spice (undeniably unique) and sweet black cherry that is com- pelling. The center of the wine has great focus, linear yet with ripeness that gives weight on the palate. The finish is balanced, alternating spice and earthy complexities mixed in with sweet ripe fruit. This is really wonderful wine and will age 20+ years easily, yet is drinkable now with a few hours of decanting. 2,083 cases produced. (Greg St.Clair, K&L Italian buyer)

Sul Tappeto Rosso

Occasionally I stumble onto a discovery that is so blissful I have to pinch myself. A couple of weeks ago I was rummaging through a box of samples deciding what I should try. I was in one of those moods where I needed to drink a red wine, no matter what we were eating. My girlfriend wanted bubbly, and although we usually drink the same, on this night I said "I'm throwin' caution to the wind!" I grabbed several bottles and said ehhh, no ehhh, no and then settled on a bottle of the 2004 Pasetti Montepulciano d'Abruzzo ($13.99). Wow, this wine is great. The focus of the Pasetti Montepulciano wine is simply dazzling, full of spice, hints of clove, layers of rose and violet subtly lying in the background as an extra element. It is concentrated with very good body while being elegant. No fat but rich at the same moment, more linear in focus, long and lingering on the palate. The wine just opened and opened and opened. I was forced by my girlfriend to save a small portion of the bottle for the next day (she's an adherent of watching wine evolve over days). I would have gladly drunk it all then. Luckily, I did not! The following day I witnessed an even more impressive wine. More dimension, a little more relaxed and luxurious on the palate. The wait also allowed the spice to open, meld into the fruit. Needless to say, I am very impressed. Even more so because I had no idea how much it cost! This is a steal!

I really feel that Montepulciano is the next indigenous grape in Italy to be "discovered." It has the capability of producing GREAT wine but has been for years pumped out oceans of cheap COOP wines to fill supermarket shelves and low-end Italian restaurant wine lists.

Well, while I'm on a Montepulciano kick, the 2004 Oasi Degli Angeli "Kurni" ($89.99) is a fruit bomb. If you are looking for an Italian wine to expose your "cult cabernet friends" to, this is it. There is truly stunning concentration in the "Kurni" but with actual substance underneath. It comes from 35-year-old Montepulciano vines from a 3-acre vineyard, and in Italy it is revered. The name means An Oasis of the Angels, and if the angels are drinking this stuff it is no wonder they are flying! It comes from the Marche, which is the region in Italy across from Tuscany on the Adriatic side of the peninsula. It isn't one of the famous winegrowing regions in Italy, but don't let that stop you. This is real serious wine. Buy a bottle, put it in your tasting group, people will be impressed.

A last note as I scramble out the door for a trip to Sicily, Puglia, Piedmont and Friuli, we are hosting Gaia Gaja (yes Angelo's daughter) at a wonderful dinner here in Los Angeles at La Terza restaurant, (one my favorite L.A. Italian restaurants) on June 13 at 7:00 p.m. At $150 a person, this is a great deal!

June's Picks!

Ca Berti Lambrusco Grasparossa di Castelvetro "Amabile" ($7.99) Here we have something a tad sweet for your summer sipping. Give it a good chill and pour a BIG wine glass so you won't have to make so many trips back to the bottle. Black cherries, vanilla, cola and cassis will dance on your tongue with this effervescent wine. Enjoy with a good book on the porch.

2004 Castello della Paneretta Chianti Classico ($14.99) I'm loving the 2004 vintage from Tuscany, and this Chianti is no exception. It is also one of our best values. Black cherries, spicy oak and a touch of earth. In the mouth, the wine is medium-bodied with fine concentration and elegance, as well as a long, crisp, moderately tannic finish. Enjoy tonight and over the next couple years.

2003 Castello della Paneretta Chianti Classico Riserva "Torre a Destra" ($26.99) 100% sangiovese, this is classic 2003 vintage. Rich and ripe are the first two things that come to mind when this hits my palate—raspberries and ripe strawberries and a luscious vanilla on the back of the month with incredible length. Bring a couple of these to the Fathers' Day BBQ and wrap one up as a present for Pops.

2002 Vini Biondi Etna Rosso "Outis" ($26.99) Not cheap, but worth every penny. From Mount Etna (the most recent eruption was in May 2007), this wine is a blend of 80% nerello mascalese and 20% nerello cappuccio grapes that are indigenous to this area and do very well in these harsh conditions. Ripe cherry, coffee and tobacco on this rich and full-bodied wine. On your travels thru Italy-in-a-glass, this is a must for your next stop. Salute! —Mike Parres

SPECIALTY SPIRITS

My Father has influenced my life in many ways. As a young man he made Corn Liquer in the Blue Hills of West Virginia! Maybe that's why I love the distilling process so much! Here's to you Pop and all Fathers who help their children to be better people! —Susan Purnell

A special note From Gordon Wright, creator of The Alchemist: "My old - in terms of time I have worked with and not age!! - friend, Susan Purnell has asked me to pen a few words to introduce my new mission to you. After leaving Bruichladdich in 1995, I decided to set up a unique project - Alchemist. Having spent the last 17 years immersed in the world of Single Malt, firstly through my family's distillery Springbank and latterly with Bruichladdich, I decided to expand my horizons and put together a range of the world's finest wood-aged spirits. Touring the world preaching the gospel of single malt gave me a privileged opportunity to enjoy many other fine spirits crafted out of other raw materials than malted barley, as well as meeting some truly great artisanal distillers. I found in many of these other beverages the same sophistication, balance and complexity found in the greatest single malts. I decided that being a true Alchemist meant bringing the results of such arduous and taxing study to a wider audience. My rational was to find the highest benchmark of quality in both single malts as well as other spirits that would give the connoisseur or enthusiastic student a taste of what was out there. I want to share the discoveries I have made and broaden the repertoire of the consumer. I have started with a core range of two single malts, Macallan and Highland Park as well as an outstanding Calvados made by the Master Distiller - Christian Drouin and an awesome Armagnac crafted by a small family producer, Chateau d'Castex. All four show a similar age and balance of their origins, both in source and location. I have added a 10 year old Port matured Springbank, which is outstanding. I am looking to add to the range, a Rum, aged Tequila and some really funky wood aged fruit spirits." Yours in Spirit, Gordon Wright

Benromach Sassicaia Wood Finish Speyside Single Malt.......$57.99 Sassicaia is one of the most sought after wines from Italy. Since reopening in 1998, Benromach Distillery has produced a more traditional style of Speyside single malt whisky. This has richer, fuller flavors with a distinctive smoky edge. After finishing in Sassicaia wine casks for 27 months, the whisky has developed a deep ruby color, with vibrant red berry fruitiness fused with spices and peat smoke. Bottled in August 2006. Limited 3000 bottles. 45% ABV

Black Maple Hill, 23 year old Rye, Single Barrel.......$105.99 One of the best Ryes in the store. This new arrival in the Black Maple Hill line up is bottled at 95 proof. Starts off elegant and bright. As it remains on your palate, you get nice toasty oak, sweet dried fruit flavors and wonderful smoothness. Ah, life is good when you're enjoying fantastic spirits like this one!

Bruichladdich "Blacker Still" Cask Strength Malt Whisky ...$249.99 Jim McEwan's tasting notes: Cask: olorosso sherry; Body: viscous, warm, rich and responsive. A spiritual pleasure in its prime with the congenial heart warming unique marriage of Islay and Spain; Nose: The first wave of aromatics is one of mixed fruits, sweet sultanas, prune, ripe plums and raisins all sprinkled with Demerara sugar. This is followed by the classic tropical fruit notes, which are the Bruichladdich house style. They intermingle superbly, supported by nutmeg and toasted walnuts, then a dash of brine floats by. The ambrosial aromas are simultaneously strong and elegant. They rise slowly like the incoming tide to reveal the sweetness of the unpeated malt biscuity and crisp - leaning towards vanilla with a twist of mellow oak and almond. Its olfactory overdrive, do NOT add a single drop of water; palate: The palate presence is one of concentrated understated power and finesse that allows the flavours to emerge slowly. The Sherry notes concede to the purity of the malt and seem happy to support rather than dominate bringing harmony to the glass. On the back palate a nutty sherry/toffee flavour brings closure and contentment; finish: A satiny aftertaste that seemingly goes on forever. Absolute decadence! 50.7% ABV

Awarded the Gold Medal at the International Wine and Spirit Competition of London and the International Rum Festival.
- Tesseron Lot No. 29 XO Grande Champagne Cognac$259.99 Bronze/copper/ topaz color; ideal purity. This aroma owns a similar nut paste/oak scent. With further air exposure, the bouquet takes on an orangy/citrusy leaning as the smell turns fruiter the more it aerates; lovely and compelling. The palate entry is supple, fruity sweet and ripe. The midpalate stage highlights melded flavors of light caramel, marzipan and nougat. Ends up oaky sweet, lightly spiced and satiny. We like this cognac very much! 4 Stars - Highly Recommended - Spirit Journal - F. Paul Pacult. 100 Points Robert Parker. 40% ABV
