Two Exciting Wine Dinners

Sign up now! Some seats still available

On October 25 the "Fete du Bordeaux" dinner will be held at the Stanford Court Hotel in San Francisco, featuring wines from the great 2003 vintage and older vintages (17 wines). Lilian Barton (and maybe Anthony Barton) and Jean Michel Cazes will be our special guests. $190 per person. Special room rates available.

On December 1, we will have a Château Montelena dinner at the Ritz Carlton Half Moon Bay with winemaker Bo Barrett. We will taste fabulous Montelena Estate Cabernets including 1994, 1995, 1997 and more with a five-course dinner. $225 per person. Special room rates available.

The Wines of Anthony Barton

Anthony and his daughter Lilian are producing some of the best wines from Bordeaux. They are fairly priced and very well made. Try a few of these in-stock beauties.

a few of these in-stock beauties.
1982 Château Léoville-Barton, St-Julien$149.00
Classic vintage and a great value here. Very limited availability.
1989 Château Léoville-Barton, St-Julien$129.00
A delicious fruit forward wine that is perfect right now. Limited availability.
1994 Château Léoville-Barton, St-Julien$47.99
Robert Parker: "The 1994 continues to be a classic Leoville-Barton that will repay 20-25 years of cellaring, although it will be drinkable in 5-6 years. The wine possesses an impressively dense, opaque ruby/purple color, as well as a strikingly intense nose of cedar, vanilla, ripe blackcurrants, and spice. Full-bodied, structured, powerful, and muscular, this is the consummate textbook example of a top-notch StJulien that is meant for long-term cellaring, yet has enough appeal and sweetness of fruit to be drunk at an earlier age."
1997 Château Léoville-Barton, St-Julien$39.99
Another superb wine turned out by the immensely popular Anthony Barton and team. This is a delicious Bordeaux, ready to drink now but capable of aging as well. Plenty of structure for cellaring 10 more years.
2002 Château Léoville-Barton, St-Julien$42.99
92 points Robert Parker: "Even better from bottle than from cask, and one of the finest wines of the vintage"
2002 Château Langoa-Barton, St-Julien$29.99

90 points Wine Spectator: "Beautiful aromas of licorice, currants and berries follow through to a medium- to full-bodied palate, with silky tannins and a seductive finish. Well-crafted. Not overdone. Best after 2007." (03/05)

2000 Brunello di Montalcino

Many great estates are now in stock, and these are some very sexy wines! See page 20.

Clyde Beffa Goes Domestic

Yes, K&L's own Clyde Beffa breaks from tradition to enjoy the wonderful wines of Chalone Vineyard! Go to page 12 to find out why.

South Africa Shines

Both Shaun Green and Jim Chanteloup get inspired by the New World-Old World style wines of the other land Down Under. See page 2.

The Wines of Denis Dubourdieu

We feature the wines of Bordeaux's "Mr. White Wine"

2002 Clos Floridene Blanc, Graves$17.99

According to Robert Parker: "One taste of the wonderful wines Denis Dubourdieu makes reveals the Clos Floridene is a superb white Graves, nearly matching the quality of such legends as Laville Haut-Brion, Haut-Brion-Blanc, and Domaine de Chevalier. The price remains a relative steal..."

2003 Clos Floridene Rouge, Graves $18.99

Denis also makes fine red wines. Rich and ripe but showing great terroir. The famous 2003 vintage-a steal!

2004 Château Roquefort Blanc, Bordeaux$9.99

Robert Parker: "Thanks to the talented oenological team of Denis Dubourdieu and his assistant, Christophe Olivier, Roquefort is generally one of the most interesting generic white Bordeaux." A superb vintage for whites.

Two K&L Buyers Wax Poetic About South Africa

Six new wines from the other land Down Under are a little bit New and a little bit Old World.

Something a Little Different!

While I'm usually telling you about my favorite wines from California and Oregon, I've got something a bit different for you this month. There have been great new wines showing up from Spain, Australia, New Zealand etc, but the one to watch right now is South Africa. They have been making wines for 300 years, and rumor has it Napoleon quite liked one of their dessert wines. Value with quality is the key here, and the wines can be fantastic, from everyday drinkers to special occasion wines. Here are some of my favorites for you to try, from someplace where the dollar is still strong.

2005 Spice Route Sauvignon Blanc ($12.99)

That's right 2005 is already out on the marketplace in the southern hemisphere! Beautifully varietal flavors of lime, gooseberry and fig with mouth-watering acidity and a lovely clear finish, drink this with crab, oysters, salads etc. Somewhat reminiscent of a New Zealand SB and a great price!

2004 Excelsior Cabernet ($8.99)

WOW! The '02 and '03 have been wildly successful in our stores, and the '04 is the best yet. True and gorgeous cabernet fruit, solid with notes of cocoa, black cherry/cassis, dusty tannins, great structure, long juicy finish... for $9. How can you go wrong?

2004 Excelsior Paddock Shiraz ($9.99)

When Jim and I tasted this we just looked at each other and said "well OK!" This stunner is big and rich with creamy vanillin oak, lots of sumptuous deep fruit, anise, licorice, exotic spices, complex yet substantial, plush and inviting. Serious syrah.

2004 Porcupine Ridge Syrah ($10.99)

Do you like big rich meaty syrah? Want one on the cheap? Here it is. Mountains of black fruit, spice, meatiness, and long dense sweet black fruit finish. This baby is a northern Rhône-style killer and a great price. Grill up a big steak, and enjoy! Enjoy these wonderful deals from way down south!

Jimmy C's View Down Under

As you may have figured out by now, I'm a fan of South African wines. Across the board, in whatever price range, you are really getting value along with real character for your dollar. And that's the difference between a good and great deal. Check out these new arrivals and see for yourself, I think you'll be happy you did.

2004 Indaba Chardonnay South Africa ($8.99) and 2003 Rustenberg Chardonnay Stellenbosch South Africa ($17.99)

I must admit, I don't drink that much chardonnay outside of work, but both of these wines are rocking for the money. The Indaba is clean and fresh with bright aromatics of fresh cut Fuji apple laced with cinnamon and citrus peel. On the palate there is good acidity with a creamy texture and nice length. The Rustenberg, is a more serious wine that is much more Burgundian in nature and shows another level of finesse. The grapes come from 20-year-old vines on granitic soils that are whole-bunch pressed into barrel for natural fermentation. The wine then spends about 11 months in medium toast French oak barrel, of which 40% was new. The nose offers notes of light toast, pear, apple, nuts, minerals and spice. These follow on the palate with some tropical flavors supported by fine acidity, a chalky texture and long finish.

2003 Fairview "Caldera" GMS Swartland South Africa ($22.99)

In the superb 2003 vintage, Fairview has made their debut with "Calera," the latest wine in the portfolio. It is a cuvee dominated by 47% grenache that comes from 60+-year-old bush vines blended with 29% mourvèdre and 24% shiraz. The grapes were hand sorted before being fermented separately in open top wooden vats and then basket pressed. A total of 17 barrels were blended to create this wine. The bouquet offers bright plum and raspberry fruit with notes of spice, smoke, leather, cocoa powder, mocha and toffee. On the palate, the wine has superb balance and soft silky tannins that lead to a long lingering finish.

Touring and Tasting the Greats of Bordeaux: Part 2

Thursday: After a great night of food, wine and hospitality at Ch. Phelan-Ségur in St-Estèphe, the alarm clock seems to go off way too early. It's a busy travel day, and we are off to the Right Bank of the Gironde estuary and the famous merlot communes of St-Emilion and Pomerol. Our first stop will be at Ch. Canon la Gaffeliere (2004 is $46.99) and the great wines of elegance from Steffan von Neipperg. Since my first taste of his wines at the estate in 1990 I've always been blown away by the incredible purity of the red fruit, never overdone, and always so focused and tasty. He also owns two other fantastic estates Ch. Clos de l'Oratoire (2003 is $34.99) and the first famous "garage" wine, the miniscule Ch. La Mondotte (2003 is $209.00).

Lunch will be at Ch. Angélus (2004 is $86.99) and the home of Hubert and Corrine de Bouard de Laforest. Hubert is an 8th generation winemaker and his wines are amazingly good in even the most difficult vintages such as 1992 (1992 Angélus is the greatest "off" vintage wine I've ever tasted). Hubert's signature is incredible opulence of fruit, very rich, very big, very exotic and loaded with complexity. After lunch we are off to Ch. Petrus (2004 is $529.99). I have only been there twice before, and it is quite an honor to be welcomed with our customers. We will then check in at the lovely Les Sources de Caudalie, spa and hotel located within the vineyards of Smith-Haut-Lafitte. Dinner will be at one of the up-and-coming stars of the Graves, Malartic Lagraviere. The Bonnie Family have done a marvelous job of renovating this old estate. They produce strikingly fresh, bright, white wine and an elegant red that is also very freshly styled.

Friday: We start the day at the legendary first growth of Pessac, Ch. Haut Brion (2004 is $139.95) where Clyde and I found the 2004 to be dead on the money and exceptional. Lunch will be at Ch. Haut Bailly, (2004 is $39.95) a longtime K&L favorite that has also undergone huge renovations under the passionate ownership of the Wilmers family from America. The 2004 wine is a star and establishes a new era of quality at this already fine estate. Dinner is with the exceedingly gracious Florence and Daniel Cathiard, owners of Smith-Haut-Lafitte who have established themselves as the leader of the region producing deeply flavored, smooth reds (2004 is $36.99) and big, bold whites (2004 is $37.95).

Saturday: There could be no sweeter way to end this tour than with the luscious dessert wines of Sauternes. Ch. Guirard and its always dark golden, deep regal wine is our first visit, and lunch will be at Ch. Climens (2004 is $59.95 for 750ml $31.99 for 375ml). I will never forget my first barrel taste of the 1988, which to this day is my favorite Sauternes. The combination of sweetness and elegance is just unreal. After all of this sugar it will be time to relax in the spa before dinner at Ch. Doisy-Vedrines (2004 is $29.95 for 750ml and $14.99 for 375ml) the greatest deal in all of Sauternes are found here and the wines are tropical and lush.

Sadly it's time to go home and go on a diet. We thank all our friends in Bordeaux for their warm hospitality. Please feel free to contact me anytime with any questions or advice on the wines of Bordeaux at ex 2723 or Ralph@klwines.com. Cheers and Go Giants!

Bearden's Bordeaux

2003 Château Saint Andre Corbin, Saint George St-Emilion ($10.99) Vines that average 55 years of age and water retentive soils were the key to the outstanding quality of this 75% merlot/25% cabernet franc blend from a tiny appellation just north of St-Emilion. Aromas of flowers and oak with a richly fruity chocolate middle are followed by a bold tannic grip on this big, lush wine. Only 3,500 cases of this amazing bargain were produced.

2003 Petite Manou, Médoc ($14.99) Only 400 cases of this 2nd label of the "garage" wine Clos Manou were made in 2003, and it won't be enough! Scents of herbs and toast lead to flavors of raspberries, vanilla and mineral in this smooth, silky wine. This blend of 56% cabernet sauvignon and 44% merlot is flashy, balanced and utterly compelling, but act fast.

2001 Petit Puch, Graves de Vayres ($13.99) Completely renovated in the late 1990s, this ancient property located just west of St-Emilion on gravely, sandy soil is producing delicious wine from 80% merlot and 20% cabernet sauvignon. This has a lively red fruit- and cocoainfused nose and a rich, round mid palate of dark fruit and spice. Fantastic quality and value price have become hallmarks of the 2001 Bordeaux vintage. Don't miss this!

2002 Haut-Bergey Blanc, Pessac-Léognan ($19.99) and 2002 Haut-Bergey Rouge, Pessac-Léognan ($19.99) The Cathiard family (of Clos l'Eglise, among others) has increased quality at this estate dramatically. The white wine is a rich, full-bodied blend of 65% sauvignon blanc and 35% semillon that sees some oak. Fruity, lively, tasty and 91 points from the Wine Spectator. The rouge is a smoky, elegant blend of 65% cabernet sauvignon and 35% merlot showing complex licorice, tobacco and cherry flavors. OUTSTANDING VALUE!

DIRECT BUYS FROM FRANCE

K&L buys many imported wines directly from the producers or negociants. We taste the wines at the property and negotiate with the seller, often finding wines that are not available in the U.S. market. And we get the wines to our customers for less. There are no middlemen taking a percentage while passing it through distribution.

More Bordeaux

1999 Lalande Borie, St-Julien ($18.99) This is textbook St-Julien, from an accessible vintage. Balanced dark red fruits, elegantly peppered with earthy spice. Medium bodied with a moderately rich palate and surprising length. Drink now over the next few years.

1999 Cantemerle, Haut-Médoc ($23.99) Solid, balanced and complex, in a nutshell. Charming with its ripe fruit that is always perfumed with tobacco, earth and spice. The tannins are ripe and balanced, not rich but elegant, terrific for tonight!

2001 d'Issan, Margaux ($29.99) A classic Margaux! Its nose is intense with dark berries, spice and a subtle floral note. On the palate it is long and elegant, with the same dark fruits, berries and spices on the nose. Tannins are soft and reserved, creating the impression of graceful restraint. A perfect medium-term cellar candidate, this wine will grow and improve as well.

2001 Pichon-Lalande, Pauillac ($66.99) What a phenomenal deal! The nose offers plenty of dark berries and spice. Elegant, but this is no lightweight. Sweet fruit in the middle seems to dance on the structure that the tannins and acid offer. It needs some decanting if you want to drink it now. If not wait another 10-plus years!

1995 Pichon-Lalande, Pauillac ($147.99) This wine is luscious and round, the sweet dark fruit and spice seem to roll around your palate teasing you with more fruit, then more spice, but, incredibly, it is balanced. It is neither tough nor fat, but it seems to have just the right amount of baby fat to fill out and soften its curves. The best part of this wine is the finish; it goes on and on. Well worth the price of admission.

The New Face of Cornas

This month, I'd like to introduce a new producer from the northern Rhône. This estate perfectly represent the "new wave" of French vignerons who are breathing new life into some old winemaking regions. Cornas was generally known for making rustic and chewy syrahs. Wines from the area were also famous for taking a quarter of a lifetime to shed their brooding demeanor. Quality was often variable, too. Not so anymore. Yes, these wines are big, bold and brawny. But the level of quality here has sky-rocketed in the last 10 years, and many of the wines exhibit both nuance and elegance along with the requisite bit of muscle. Colombo, Voge, Clape, Courbis-these are the big names, the big guns of Cornas. Well, there is one more vigneron poised to enter the elite party, and his name is Vincent Paris.

In his early 30s, Vincent has already made a name for himself. Vincent inherited most of his own vines from his grandfather (some of which are 90-years old) and has also rented from his uncle, the legendary Cornas vigneron, Robert Michel. His total rented and owned holdings amount to 8 hectares. In the vineyard Vincent prunes to leave only four bunches of grapes per vine. He also ferments at relatively low temperatures and matures his wine in oak barrels for up to 12 months. Vincent's wines are not yet widely discovered but can

The 2003 Vincent Paris Cornas "Granit 30" ($29.99) comes from vines whose average age is 30 years. La Revue du Vin de France has proclaimed Vincent to be "One of the brightest new stars of the Rhone valley!" The wine is full-bodied, with terrific purity and sweetness of fruit, massive flavors, and layers of concentration.

1999 Whitethorn Hyde Vineyard Chardonnay$21.99

Definitely made in a Burgundian style. Coolclimate Carneros fruit, coupled with non interventionalist winemaking, such as no noticeable oak influence, lots of acidity, and a haunting wet stone minerality that clings straight through to the end.

According to the Wine Spectator: "Shows mature, earthy, waxy aromas, with rich, full-bodied pineapple, citrus and tropical fruit flavors that coat the palate. Drink now through 2007."

Scary Good Châteauneuf-du-Pape!

This month, I have the good fortune to write about my favorite wines: Châteauneuf-du-Pape! Reds from this village comprise one-quarter of my cellar. If my parents are reading this, I hope that they are listening (though they say I need more wine like I need a whole in the head!).

2003 Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Domaine Grand Veneur ($24.99) Yes, the famous releases from 2003 are here. Yields were down a full 40% for this vintage so while quantities are low, quality is extremely high. A huge nose of cassis fruit, dark blackberries and anise with some lingering smoky scents. The nose is nearly worth the price alone! In the mouth, blackberries, boysenberries and raspberries coat the palate. The anise comes through for a very interesting finish. A wine of elegance and finesse. A great wine to pair with roast pork or very sharp cheeses. Though tempting to drink all of this wine now, it will age very well over the next 8-10 years. 90-92 points from Robert Parker!

2003 Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Les Bosquet des Papes ($34.99)

Another legend from 2003 in the making! The fine extraction of tannin takes place when the grape bunches are crushed, stalks included. Cask aging is 12-24 months depending upon the quality of the vintage. The result is a wine not for the faint of heart. Like the Grand Veneur, this wine is also admired by Mr. Parker. However, stylistically, it stands in sharp contrast to the Grand Veneur. This one has big currant fruit and black pepper. Lush and dense! On the palate, black cherries, black currants and a nice touch of earth that is balanced and not overpowering. Low tannins and soft structure. A more traditional approach to Châteauneuf-du-Pape that is not one whit less pleasurable than the elegance of the Grand Veneur. A great match for hearty lamb dishes or barbecued beef. Should keep in the cellar 12 years plus. Yum! Yummy! Yum!

Trey's Picks

September and October have always been big Cabernet release months. I guess the wineries want to get the wines our hands in time for the holidays. We've now received the '02 Joseph Phelps "Insignia" in our stores along with the 2002 Dominus, 2002 BV Private Reserve, 2002 Opus One and the '03 Caymus Napa Cabernet Sauvignon. The most approachable of these wines would be the 2003 Caymus Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($64.99). Caymus has really focused on making the Napa Cabernet a darker, riper and more accessible wine upon release. Caymus says this can be attributed to less vigorous root stocks, low yields and healthy vines. When we tasted this wine last month it was delicious. A bit closed on the nose, it should open up with some decanting; the wine was explosive and quite open in the mouth. It showed toasty flavors of cassis, black and red currants, spicy plums and hints of cocoa and mint. Enjoy this wine tonight while the Special Select is ageing in your cellar. Speaking of Special Select, keep an eye out for the '03 in February of next year. Of course, you need a white to go with the Caymus Cab. That is where the 2003 Mer Soleil Central Coast Chardonnay ($34.99) comes in. Ripe tropical fruit explodes from this glass. The fruit is sweet, rich and mouth-coating, while the finish is still fresh and bright, with hints of lime; kiwi and spice linger on the palate. The Mer Soleil is made by Charlie Wangner, son of Chuck Wagner of Caymus. His other son Joseph, is the winemaker for their Pinot Noir house Belle Glos. Currently we have two releases of Belle Glos in stock: The 2003 Belle Glos "Clark and Telephone" Pinot Noir ($39.99) from the Santa Maria Valley and the 2003 Belle Glos "Taylor Lane" Pinot Noir ($49.99) from the Sonoma Coast. The Clark and Telephone shows dark, rich flavors of ripe plums, strawberries, spice and hints of blackberries. The Taylor Lane shows aromas of ripe cherries, cola, mixed berries and hints of toasty oak. Both are drinking great now, even though they are young, and —Trey Beffa will cellar well over the next few years.

Something Old, Something New...

No, nobody's getting married over here. I'm just going to tell you about a 12-year-old beauty of a wine, but first... something new:

The 2003 Clos LaChance Santa Cruz Mountains Chardonnay ($14.99) Made by a new, talented winemaker, Stephen Tebb, from an estate that's turning heads, this wine was an instant hit with our entire staff. Brimming with delicious pear, apple, and delicate citric notes, with a surprisingly refined presence, I expect this one to sell faster than the usual hotcakes. Yeah, I know, a second month in a row with a Santa Cruz Chardonnay choice, but you gotta trust me on how good this one is!

We've always been fans of Au Bon Climat, a fantastic producer from Santa Barbara County. But even the familiar favorites can sometimes surprise you when you least expect. Take the 2003 Au Bon Climat Santa Maria Pinot Noir ($21.99) for instance. Blended from several terrific vineyards, including famed Bien Nacido, this one's a great marriage of finesse and strength, with a refined softness that caresses your mouth while the fruit gently but firmly shines through, leaving you with the impression that you just died and went to Pinot heaven! Sorry Joe Z, I'm temporarily in your neck o' the woods. I promise I won't stay long, but this next wine got me so excited when I tasted it at the winery, I couldn't wait to talk about it once I got back. The 1993 Burgess "Vintage Selection" Cabernet Sauvignon ($44.99) is an actual winery re-release, where it's been stored in pristine condition for over a decade. An absolute stunner, no... a masterpiece, of perfectly integrated Napa Cabernet. To drink this wine is to know the true pleasure of letting real wine age gracefully. For all those who hoped (or doubted) that Napa Valley could age like Bordeaux, you'll be shocked by its freshness and elegance, not to mention its price. I'd write more, but I'm out of space. Enjoy!

New From Chalone

What is Mr Bordeaux doing writing up three California wines? Well, I drink quite a bit of California wine, and I recently tasted these three. I was totally impressed by their quality versus price. You should try them, too.

2004 Chalone, Monterey County Chardonnay ($9.99) Pear and tropical fruit aromas. Clean, crisp, and totally palate pleasing. Not overdone-very refreshing!

2003 Chalone, Monterey County Cabernet Sauvignon ($12.99) Some dark currant and chocolate nuances on the nose. Hint of oak and some Monterey dust on the palate. Decant and enjoy now.

2004 Chalone, Monterey County Pinot Noir ($13.99) Wow! Miles would have loved this beauty had he driven up the coast a bit! Quite lush with cherry and clove undertones on the palate. Tons of fruit and a lingering finish. Superb value.

Fall Finds

2003 Bodegas Marco Real Garnacha, Navarra ($8.49) and 2003 Bodegas Marco Real Tempranillo, Navarra ($8.49) The Marco Real wines are a hot new project from lovely Navarra, Spain. Packed with ripe fruit and plenty of stuffing, these two wines represent some of the best Spain has to offer in values! Robert Parker says, "A good value, Marco Real's 2003 Garnacha (100% Grenache) displays the spicy side of this underappreciated noble varietal." Parker gave the Tempranillo 88 points and says, "Floral, blue and black fruit, abundant texture, and a heady finish suggest it should be drunk over the next several years."

2003 Hecula Yecla ($9.99) 90 points Robert Parker: "The 2003 Hecula, aged in equal parts tank and French wood, is produced from ancient, non-irrigated Mourvedre vines planted in pure limestone. Inky ruby/purple to the rim, with a sweet bouquet of ripe plums, figs, raspberries, and cherries, it boasts a terrific texture, enviable purity, medium to full body, and a long, seamless finish."

Flare Espumoso de Moscatel ($10.99) This AWESOME fizzy Moscatel has the same appeal as an Italian moscato. Lively and fresh full of white peach and allspice aromas and flavors. Lower in alcohol and not as dense as some dessert wines, it makes a great choice for fruit/cheese platters, lighter desserts, or as an afternoon sipper!

2003 Vinas del Cenuit, Venta Mazzaron, VDT de Zamora ($13.99) 90 points from Robert Parker! He says, "A superb discovery by broker Jorge Ordonez, the terrific 2003 Venta Mazzaron is a top-notch value. It offers a deep ruby/purple color as well as a sweet perfume of blackberries, cherries, smoke, licorice, and earth. Medium-bodied and elegant, with wonderful sweetness, plush tannin, and a long, pure finish, it will drink well for 2-3 years."

La Tour St. Martin

Betrand Minchin wants to make the best wine in Menetou-Salon, an appellation that has long lived in the shadow of the more famous Sancerre. For 10 years now he has been honing his craft and working in the vineyards to achieve that goal. The vineyards of Menetou-Salon lie about 30 kilometers southwest of Sancerre and cover around 350 hectares, a mere one-seventh of the size of Sancerre. The soils are largely the same as in Pouilly and Sancerre a mix of limestone and clay though darker and richer and the climate is very similar. The Domaine La Tour St. Martin is composed of 8 hectares of sauvignon blanc and 7 of pinot noir. There is no pesticides or herbicides used and all grapes are hand harvested. The wines are vinified in stainless steel at lower temperatures to capture freshness and vitality.

The 2004 La Tour St. Martin Menetou Salon Blanc ($14.99) is vibrant and bright with great cut and minerality and a zesty tanginess that invites another sip. There is hardly a better Sauvignon in the store right now for this price. Drink it over the next 5 years. The 2004 La Tour St. Martin Menetou Salon Rouge ($14.99) is 100% pinot noir, and real pinot at that!! Though I must tell you that if you are looking for something like what is made here in the states with color closer to syrah your money is better spent elsewhere. This is elegant and medium bodied with delicate flavors of earth and tea leaves with hints of sweet plums and woodruff. The color is on the lighter side, but this does not lack for intensity, and the purity and focus of flavor is admirable for such a "little" wine. Drink over the next 7-8 years. Cheers!

It's All Here

I'm not sure about you, but I am growing increasingly tired of wines that are over done. Everyday someone brings in a new wine that lacks personality, purity and charm. Is this "the new way" of wine making? I don't understand it! When I decide to spend my hard-earned money on a bottle of wine I think I owe it to myself to have something with a few simple, basic characteristics to it. How about being able to smell the pure, clean aromatics even before sticking your nose into the glass? Or how about swishing it around your mouth and not having the first thought that pops into your head be, ahhh butter. Rich, creamy butter! I know this may sound nuts, but how about having something that complements the food you are having, instead of completely rolling over it? BALANCE PEOPLE, that's what I want!!! Don't think, not for one second, that you need to spend an arm and a leg to enjoy, what I like to call, the complete experience! Just to scare you, I'll tell you about an "expensive" one. The 2002 Malat Grüner Veltliner Dreigarten ($14.99), with its exotic aromatics of candied apricots and subtle, spicy, tobacco nuances you'll be intrigued to find out what else is going on. Like its steady acidity that carries, along with it, a tangy, juicy minerality centered by a core of fruit that continues to linger, like a fond childhood memory. If you feel more comfortable with a name that is easy to say, try the Turk, that's right, Turk. The 2003 Turk Grüner Veltliner "Vom Urgentein" ($12.99) exudes white and pink floral aromatics that have been somehow been dusted with a magical spice dust. With the weight of the 2003 vintage, and a heart of telling terroir and just enough acidity to make your mouth feel the need for more, you put your glass down and think to yourself... hey, that's good! While we're getting wacky, how about I low ball you with a another little gem? Something that shines with strength and personality, a bit of a sharp, full-bodied edge, carried out with a crystalline fruit presence that goes and goes and.... I must admit, when I first shoved my nose into the 2002 Weingut Ehmoser Grüner Veltliner Hohenberg ($11.99), I said to myself, very quietly of course, if I ever came across a woman that smells like this I would do whatever it takes to make her mine. I'll keep you posted.

The 15th Page Man: 2004 German Pre Arrivals

We are now offering the bulk of our Pre Arrival German wines on the web and in our stores. The wines are expected to arrive in mid to late November. The sheer number of wines prevents me from telling you about them in this forum, so please go to www.klwines.com to view detailed notes on all the wines.

This vintage is a welcome return to something altogether more typical from Germany. And for those of you who were hesitant to buy 2003s, this is your vintage. 2004 is a great vintage in the lower Prädikats with real Kabinett wines and Spätlesen that are not too rich or heavy. The acid levels this year are higher, and the wines taste more racy and brilliant with ripe flavors that are not so exotic as in 2003... more in the apple, stone-fruit range this time around. There are many wines worth your attention this vintage. The following should not be missed!!

2004 Carl Schmitt-Wagner Longuicher Maximiner Herrenberg Kabinett ($18.99) From vines over 100 years old planted on their own roots in an impossibly steep site, this is one fine Kabinett with a sage almost minty aromatic note and a lusty vitality that is deeply satisfying. This wine is as good as any other in the Mosel this year so don't miss it.

In the Rheingau there were very many successful wines but by far the two standouts and possible masterpieces were the 2004 Spreitzer Oestricher Lenchen Spätlese "303" ($42.99) and the 2004 Josef Leitz Rüdesheimer Berg Schlossberg Spätlese ($39.99) These are, in my opinion, perfect expressions of Rieslingness. The 303 is a dancing array of beauty, impossibly complex and touched with smells apples and fine orange tea. Leitz's Schlossberg, made from botrytised grapes, is a bit more stern and vigorous with all the power you expect from Schlossberg, yet this has a gloss of fruit that sits like porcelain on the skeleton of this beast that makes it all the more intriguing. There is no point in saying anything about Donnhoff or Muller Catoir. You know they are great, and you should buy as much as you can find. Now go drink Riesling and be happy!

Trick or Treat or Both

I must say that I deeply resent the image of my beloved San Francisco Bay Area. We are not kookie hippy yuppy Chardonnay drinkers, nor are we all straight gay computer chipped on the shoulder left wing artiste foodies. Yeah, so what if there is a guy named Ray selling a tenthousand pound meteorite for two-hundred-thousand bucks in the local classifieds? So what if tie dyed cell phonies sell whole companies over non-fat decaf mochas or glasses of oak laced with wine? Dykes on bikes? Body builder governors? Grateful Dead tributes? So what? Truth is, we are hard workin' roll-up-the-sleeves country folk. So much for stereotypes.

Excuse me, I ordered my triple half-decaf crappacino with free-range milk...

Monster Cellar Lands at K&L

Biggest buy-in ever of old, unearthed wines results in mammoth dust bunnies hopping amok at this venerable Bay Area retailer.

Well, not as big as that meteorite (Offer 150 thou, and you could pretty much steal it for that), but pretty darn big. 350 cases, impeccably stored.

Cases upon cases of Bordeaux:

1988 - Margaux, Mouton-Rothschild, Palmer, Pichon-Lalande, Talbot, Vieux-Château-Certan;

1989 - Margaux, Montrose, Mouton, Palmer, Pape Clement, Pavie,

Pichon-Baron, Pichon-Lalande;

1990 - Same suspects. I have '82s, '83s, '85s and '86s, too.

How about some older Italian wines? How about 100 cases of Barolo, Barbaresco, (oh, I AM a big shot, aren't I) Brunello and Super Tuscans from 1982, '85, '88 and '90, priced to sell? Not good enough, you say...

O.K. Here's the deal: I'll throw in 30 cases of Sauternes from '83, '86 and '88, raise it 45 cases of Rhônes from '83, '85, '88 and '90 and top it off with 20 boxes of California gems.

Yes, that's all. First guy to ask for old Hungarian Gewürz gets the raspberry...

Iim's October Gems

As Chris, Anderson and I did our evening walk (August 29th), I felt Autumn in the air for the sixth consecutive day, which means that we have had only about six weeks of summer this year. We are still four to six weeks away from the possibility of seeing any serious amount of grapes for this harvest. "I just had veraison (color-set) several weeks ago," as one of my Napa Valley grower buddies told me last week. To add to that, the crop size will be way down due to all the rain and cold we had throughout spring and into the beginning of summer. It makes me thankful that we dropped all our crop on our three-year old vine-yard this year in the Anderson Valley; we would had taken that crop into November to get it ripe, which would have been a disaster.

Our Loire Valley wine buyer and one of my vineyard-business partners, Jeff Vierra, came to me recently and asked me what I thought of the wines from Domaine La Tour Saint-Martin, which he had directly imported to K&L from the Loire Valley. I told him that I thought they were stunning wines, perfect examples of the best from that commune, and that I would be honored to write them up in this column, if he would allow me. The 2004 Domaine La Tour Saint-Martin Menetou Salon Blanc ($14.99) will rival many single-vineyard, grand cru productions from Sancerre. This is sauvignon in its purest form. Clean, crisp, mouthwatering, with tons of acid structure, no oak (thank you), a lovely tangy finish with lime tones and minerality that carries over to the finish. This will be one of our house whites. Eby says you will not hear her purring if you do not buy a case of this wonderful gem. You need to keep the skin on your wonderful hands, for her eyes become dilated and her claws come out when she becomes

The 2004 Domaine La Tour Saint-Martin Menetou Salon Rouge ($14.99) offers not only value, but is also a pinot noir that will rival many mid-range priced Burgundies. Medium ruby/red in color, the opulent nose offers loads of fresh strawberry to bright cherry notes

If you have any questions regarding this month's selections, you can e-mail me at jimbarr@klwines.com.

You Go, Girl!

This month I am very pleased to present to you an exciting new domaine located in the Roussillon. Domaine du Roc des Anges is a small property of 13 hectares. It was created in February 2001 by 23-year-old Marjorie Gallet who grew up near Cote Rotie. Gallet earned her degree at Montpellier and did apprenticeships with vigneron legends Yves Cuilleron, Pierre Gaillard and Domaine Gauby in the Roussillon. The vineyards at Roc des Anges are worked manually and no chemicals are used. The grapes are harvested by hand and then pressed into a wooden vertical basket press. I think you will discover that Marjorie's efforts exhibit a length and elegance not often found in wines from the region. Both wines are two more stellar examples among the many high-quality, low-price wines coming out of the Languedoc-Roussillon these days.

Champagne's Great is Not for Everyone!

Mr. Rene Collard is a grower who is respected like no other within Champagne. His wines had never been exported until a few years ago. Two years ago I was able to purchase a small amount, which sold out almost instantly, last year a bit more, and this year I was given the opportunity to buy again. His estate is under 7 hectares (17.5 acres) total, about 90% meunier and 10% chardonnay. He has the good fortune of having an amazing cellar that is 25 feet deep at its shallowest and 75 feet deep at the far end. Here the wines that are now on offer have rested, at a perfect 8.5 degrees Celsius since they were made. All of the wines were fermented in 2/3 old, large foudres and 1/3 enamel vats without malolactic fermentation. They have all spent a very, very long time on the lees. Although Mr. Collard does not keep exact records of the disgorgement times, most of the wines in this offering were disgorged to order three months ago. Please be warned: These Champagnes are wines with a very big personality! Some palates will find them unusual, as Mr. Collards Champagne has twice the concentration of any other. Here are short descriptions:

Rene Collard Ultra Brut "Ultime" ($39.99) No dosage is added to this Champagne, which is 100% 1995 but not labeled as a vintage because the paperwork was not done to register it in time. This is the most conventional Champagne of the bunch, and has a wonderful creamy mid-palete that makes an excellent foil for the zesty pear and apple fruit and mineral finish.

Rene Collard Brut Carte d'Or ($39.99) This wine is based on the 1992 harvest and is almost exclusively meunier. It is a rich, toasty mouthful with more wine in it than ought to fit in a 750ml bottle.

1990 Rene Collard Cuvee Reservee Millesime ($49.99) 90% meunier and 10% chardonnay. Vibrant and ultra focused, this wine is an extremely young 15... It has flavors of peach and a firm minerality to balance out the fruit. I think this will be at its best in another 10-20 years, but I did not rush to put the cork back in it! This is the youngest 1990 there is.

1985 Rene Collard Cuvee Reservee Millesime ($59.99) Again about 90% Meunier and 10% Chardonnay. White truffles, brioche and pine nuts! This is such a complex, elegant and completely fresh wine that it is hard to believe it is so young, and hard to believe it is so old! This wine has the most flexibility of the bunch; it is starting to drink well now, but will keep as long as most of us who are old enough to buy it will live...

Please give these wines a chance to rest (I would recommend a minimum of one month). They are due to arrive in the middle of October. A toast to you!

—Gary Westby

2004 Cotes du Roussillon Domaine du Roc des Anges "Segna de Cor" ($13.99) Gallet's 2004 Segna de Cor (Roc & Anges spelled backward) is composed of younger vines of mostly grenache and syrah grown on shallow schistous soils. This wine is rich and deep with a silkiness and elegance that makes it so memorable. The funny thing is, Marjorie's entry-level wine is longer, finer and deeper than most other estates' regular cuvées! The 2003 Cotes du Roussillon Domaine du Roc des Anges "Vieilles Vignes" ($19.99) is composed of 40% carignan, 40% grenache and 20% syrah. The average vine age for this cuvee is around 70 years! The resulting wine is rich and a bit deeper than its little sister, with notes of black cherry, cassis and lavender. On the finish it exhibits a phenomenal pulverized rock kind of minerality, which sets this beauty apart from the rest!

Flying Burgundy Bargains

Sometimes things in our world interact in unexpected ways. As an example, the recent financial difficulties in the airline industry have had unexpected benefits for those us who love Meursault. It seems that a certain well-regarded domaine had a contract with an airline for some wonderful 2002 Meursault, for the lucky folks in first class to drink. But the airline's financial difficulties meant that the passengers paid a high price, but had to content themselves with an ordinary Mâcon, and instead we got the Meursault, at an unheardof price! Of course, the label has a rather anonymous negociant's name on it, since the domaine did not want to use its real name at these prices. But the 2002 Meursault, Maison Maurice Chen, ($19.99) is everything you expect from Meursault (but do not always get). Rich and round on the palate, but with that characteristic nuttiness and minerality that lets you know it could only be Meursault. This is the real deal, better than many I have tasted at more than twice the price. We bought a bunch, but this is a onetime deal, and if you snooze, you will definitely lose.

For your everyday drinking, we are expecting a container with our old favorite, the Plaisir des Princes ($6.99). In a plentiful vintage, some vineyards in Burgundy produce more wine than they can legally sell. When they do, they declassify the overage as Vin de Table. This white Burgundy from the Mâcon falls into that category. It is actually 2004 Mâcon Villages, but the crop was large and the market soft, thanks to the weak dollar. Last time we had this wine available, it flew out the door, so it definitely qualifies as a flying bargain. Á Santé.

Podere Rinascimento

The boatload of Brunello di Montalcino we ordered has finally come in! These are really super wines, forward enough to drink now and they'll age well over the next decade, one taste of these wines and you'll love them! So we begin with the 2000 Sesta di Sopra Brunello di Montalcino ($42.99). The nose just jumps out at you: spicy, complex, wild cherry fruit with sage and leather—intriguing, seductive and inviting. On the palate the wine is broad, full-bodied and rich yet not heavy. It has an elegance and is supple yet forceful, full of the complex character evident in the nose yet is slightly plumier, meatier, warmer and sweeter. As the wine sits on your palate its incredible length begins to blossom, depositing a mineral character, iron like, focused, powerful and very, very long. 92 points Wine Spectator, the 4th highest rated Brunello of the vintage.

The nose of the 2000 Pian dell'Orino Brunello di Montalcino ($39.99) just explodes out of the glass, a chocolaty, plumy, spicy array of complex wild fruits. On the palate the wine is bold, dramatic, with lots of mid palate structure. A real depth of flavor flows from the chocolaty, plumy nose to herb, leather and earth, but the finish is more ripe, yet very focused. The wine's powerful structure leaves a dramatic presence in the finish that lingers, wistfully.

The famous Montosoli vineyard provides the 2000 Baricci "Colombaio di Montosoli" Brunello di Montalcino ($36.99) with a tremendous pedigree. "Sweet earth," was the first thing I wrote for this wine, that classic Montosoli nose, elegantly spicy, full of cinnamon, cardamom, anise and leather. The wine exudes a rather feminine mystique, giving then taking, hinting not demanding, leaving you with a warm, round and complete feeling on the palate.

This year's new find, the exuberantly lovable 2000 Poggiarellino Brunello di Montalcino ($29.99), has a sweetness that emanates from the nose. Warmth, dense richness and power pumps the ripe plumy character across the palate, pleasing, warming, enriching, and filling the palate. The finish is sunny, warming, complete, balanced and lingering with more chocolaty intrigue. And no, that isn't a misprint in the price. It is a TREMENDOUS deal!

And don't forget these two fabulous Riserve, full of classic sweet leather and plum fruit: the 1999 Casisano Colombaio Brunello di Montalcino Riserva ($54.99), which got 95 points and a Highly Recommended designation from the Wine Spectator, and the 1997 Casisano Colombaio Brunello di Montalcino Riserva ($54.99), 92 points from the Wine Spectator.

2003 Convento Muri-Gries Pinot Grigio-1 Glass Gambero Rosso $14.	99
2003 Ermacora Merlot	99

Lookout Sideways! Innocuous California Merlot beware! This is ripe, complex fruit filled and sensationally balance wine at a great price, Yes Friuli makes great Reds in hot vintages. (Greg St. Clair, K&L Italian buyer)

2003 Ermacora Refosco	$15.99
2003 Ermacora "Riul"	$19.99

We like to think of this as a Super Friulian! 60% merlot, 20% refosco and 20% cabernet sauvignon aged in 1/3 new French barriques. The nose is a complex blend of chocolate with hints of vanilla and layers of spice, stone and mineral and fruits. The merlot dominates the broad palate with a sweet, warm ripeness; the cabernet and refosco fall in right behind adding spice, black pepper and pencil shavings while hints of sweet vanillin remains on the palate in a long and vibrant finish. (Greg St. Clair, K&L Italian buyer)

October's Picks

2002 Ruggeri Corsini Nebbiolo delle Langhe ($14.99) Wow! is all I have to say about this 100% nebbiolo! OK, I have more to say: THIS ROCKS! Once again, do not write off the 2002s. This shows classic aromatics of wet leather and flowers. The palate is full-bodied with blackberries, tar and tobacco, and spice and soft tannins on the finish. This is a great way to experiment with this grape variety.

2002 Ruggeri Corsini Barbera d'Alba "Armujan" ($17.99) I give this wine the three Rs: ripe, rich and ready! You will find lots of concentration of blackcurrants, plum and cassis, coco powder on the mid-palate and some smokiness from the oak on the finish. This wine wants a lamb stew or mature cheese.

2000 Ruggeri Corsini Barolo ($32.99) Tar and leather, that's what you will find on the nose, and plenty of it. This elegant wine received 91 points from the Wine Spectator and 2 Glasses from Gambero Rosso, and I gave it 3 stars when Greg and I tasted this in 2004 at the winery (that's as high as I go). Classic Barolo, it is a garnet red, showing cherries with that wet leather and lots of cloves and some vanilla from the oak. Drinks well now with a couple hours of decanting or will develop over the next 5 to ten years.

2001 Ruggeri Corsini Barolo ($31.99) So what to buy, 2000 or 2001 ??? The 2001 has wonderful aromas of flowers, anise and black cherries. More masculine then the 2000, but beautifully structured with silky tannins and high acidity. Plum and currant mingle with nutmeg and intergraded oak. Long finish, this wine will work well alongside Sunday night roast with a mushroom gravy. Salute!

SPECIALTY SINGLE MALTS

There are experiences that change your life forever. Well, I am forever changed by the trip to Islay I took at the end of August. Many thanks to everyone who shared their lives with me and who were so very generous! Here is just a sampling of some of the outstanding whiskies made on this beautiful Hebridean Island. Look for my K&L Islay and Bruichladdich Academy Reports coming soon!

Ardbeg 10-year-old Distillery Bottling$43.99

Wow! For a 10-year-old malt, this has incredible, complex flavors. Non chill-filtered which allows the malt to retain maximum flavor and allows more body and depth of flavor. This malt is exceptionally balanced with a peaty, smoky and complex character and hints of toffee and chocolate. 46% ABV. 93 points from the Malt Advocate!

Ardbeg 9 year Gordon & MacPhail Connoisseur's Choice......$64.99

This is a brand of unusual single malt whiskies, distinguished by their labels, which indicate the region from which they come. Many of these whiskies are only available under the Connoisseurs Choice range. Color: Pale Straw Nose: Creamy with medicinal notes and some malt aromas. Palate: Salty (sea tangle and driftwood), medicinal notes with some peaty flavors and hints of spices. Finish: Full bodies malt, slightly medicinal with peaty notes. Cask Type: First Fill and Refill Sherry Casks. 40% ABV.

Bowmore 12-year-old Distillery Bottling$29.99 Bowmore 17-year-old Distillery Bottling$59.99

This is a great price for one of the best bottles of Bowmore ever made! Made by Jim McEwan, loved by Jim McEwan, how can you go wrong. Very deep amber in color. The nose has a light peatiness and a touch of chocolate. It is very smooth on the palate with a nice smoky peat flavor. The finish is long and dry. Don't miss out on this great price! 43% ABV.

Bowmore Darkest 15-year-old Distillery Bottling$56.99 1985 Bowmore 19-year-old The McGibbon's Provenance$89.99

Pale golden straw color. Closed fresh fruity almost weedy aromas. Rich, soft palate with undertones of seaweed, iodine, lapsong soochong tea and hints of lavender. Soft bourbon sweetness with a fabulous soft encompassing, almost delicate perfumed finish, which simply won't quit ... WOW! Takes your socks off! Bourbon cask. 46% ABV.

Bruichladdich 10-year-old Distillery Bottling -Special Price$49.99 Bruichladdich 12-year-old Distillery Bottling$59.99 Bruichladdich 15-year-old Distillery Bottling -Special Price$75.99 Bruichladdich 3D "Peat Proposal" Distillery Bottling$64.99 Bruichladdich 3D Second Edition Mòine Mhòr 100 Proof$69.99

The Second Edition 3D Peat is known as Mòine Mhòr (mon-yah-vorr, the Gaelic for 'The Big Peat'). Jim McEwan, Master Distiller: "I wanted to give those peat fans something to really think about. Our tall-necked stills mean our whisky is never a rugged 'in-your-face' dram. But I wanted to surprise a few people with this. There is simply no malt like it; it's a cross-over whisky for those that love the evocative aroma of peat, but just can't hack the medicine." The combination of three differently peated Bruichladdichs (light, medium and heavy) from three distinct ages, over three disparate eras of the distillery's history, and matured in three diverse cask types, provides a surprisingly complex, and harmonious whisky. Bottled naturally, at 100 proof, this must be what Bruichladdich originally tasted like in 1881, yet no one is alive who tasted it, but since the original machinery is still in use today, it can't be far off.

1989 Bruichladdich Vintage Full Strength Distil. Bottling$99.99 Bruichladdich 17-year-old Distillery Bottling$119.99 Bruichladdich 20-year-old Second Edition "Flirtation"......$179.99

Jim McEwan has created an evocative cuvee that is absolutely a liaison dangereuse. After twenty years maturing in Bourbon barrels, this Laddie was coyly introduced to spicy mourvèdre wine casks from Rivesaltes on France's Mediterranean coast. It was a flirtation, a holiday romance that was almost over before it had begun. The result of this dalliance is that the expected profound spirit shows the gentle nuances of alluring fruit flavors, with just a hint of subtle spice aromas adding to the overall multi-layered experience. Gold Medal and Best in Class at the International Wine and Spirit Competition 7/2005.

1973 Bruichladdich Vintage Distillery Bottling$309.99

1968 Bruichladdich Legacy Series Three 35-year-old......$449.99

A steal at this price and soon to be no longer available! Matured in fresh Bourbon hogsheads. Jim McEwan's Tasting Notes: Color: Spirit safe brass. Body: Understated elegance. The body full and voluptuous with a softness of texture that is astonishing. Nose: the bouquet is a harmony of raspberry and strawberry crème, plus a little kirsch followed by nuances of vanilla extract, chocolate and orange. Add the sweetest oaky vanillin you have ever discovered and you have an intriguing, fragrant spirit that tantalizes the olfactory senses like never before. Palate: Like sweet, malty snowflakes melting on your tongue, succulent and soft. The sweet red fruity flavors flirt with the oaky bourbons and the creamy sweet vanilla, add the coastal freshness and it all makes sense. Finish: Luscious, lingering long after the fires have gone out.

1965 Bruichladdich Legacy Series Two 37-year-old$459.99

Jim McEwan has made this personal selection of casks dating from 1965 and has carefully vatted them together to create an exceptional limited edition. Like all Bruichladdich bottlings, this Legacy Series II is caramel free. After 37 years maturation in our shore-side warehouses, it has been bottled without chill filtering and is at natural strength. The cask is 50% American and 50% Refill sherry. The color is warm amber harvest honey gold. The luscious silky smooth supple texture caresses the palate. It's full and focused and requires lots of aeration time. The nose has an explosion of fruit unbelievable from the spirit of this age. The aromas have molded beautifully together over the long maturation. The palate has a truly delicious liquid satin mouth feel.

Bunnahabhain 12-year-old Distillery Bottling$39.99

Bunnahabhain is a mellow, delicate and highly individual malt Whisky that owes much of its character to the clear water of the Margadale spring and to the distillery's proximity to the sea on the edge of the Sound of Islay. It is the most northern of all the Islay distilleries. The 12 year is golden in color. The nose is remarkably fresh, sweet, with hints of sea-air aroma. A lighter body malt but with good weight and usually runs about 10ppm in regards to its phenol content. The palate is very gentle, clean, with a nutty-malty sweetness. A nice full flavored finish.

Caol Ila 12-year-old Distillery Bottling$54.99 Caol Ila 18-year-old Distillery Bottling$69.99 Caol Ila 25-year-old Cask Strength Distillery Bottling$194.99

Caol Ila is a medium malt, golden in color, with a warming peaty, yet sweet flavor. Very Limited! 59.4% ABV.

Lagavulin 16-year-old Distillery Bottling-Special Price$79.99

Lagavulin was established in 1830 and has the driest start of all single malts. Full amber in color with a dominant sherry nose. Full Bodied yet smooth. The dryness is offset by the sweetness of the sherry character. Salty notes and a huge powerful peaty finish. A connoisseur's malt, and with consistently high marks from Michael Jackson.

Laphroaig 10-year-old Distillery Bottling-Special Price$29.99 Laphroaig "Quarter Cask" Distillery Bottling$54.99

Two hundred years ago, malt whisky was carried through Scotland in small casks that were easily transported on the backs of packhorses. As transportation methods improved, Scottish distillers turned to more economical larger casks, which became today's uniform standard for maturation. Realizing that the original small cask maturation process would be an innovative way to add new character. Laphroaig Quarter Cask is handcrafted to deliver a new expression of Laphroaig's powerful, smoky flavors with smoother, creamier and more complex notes. Initially matured in American oak bourbon barrels then transferred into new, specially produced Quarter Casks for a final seven- to eightmonth period. As a result, the maturing spirit receives 30% more contact with wood than other single malts aged in larger, more commonly used barrels. The result is a single malt with the unmistakable peat smoke and a creamy, coconutlike nose with a soft sweetness, a hint of salt. Non-Chill Filtered 48% ABV.

Laphroaig 10-year-old Cask Strength, Distillery Bottling$59.99 Laphroaig 15-year-old Distillery Bottling$69.99 Port Ellen 21-year-old The McGibbon's Provenance$189.99

Dark, rich mahogany color, with orange tints. Big, rich, Darjeeling tea, Christmas cake aromas. Equally rich palate: spice cake, toffee, smoked vanilla flavours mixed with the suggestions of oak and campfires, which coat the mouth with lingering rich smoke. Still wonderfully fresh and lively with a rich lengthy sustained subtle Islay finish. A classic dram! What a crime they closed it! Sherry cask. 46% ABV.
